RMS SLASH TO DEFENSE NEEDS URGED BY HOOVER

Nations Challenged to Quit Steady Warfare Preparations and Make Kellogg Pact Effective

WASHINGTON, May 30. (Exclusive)—President Hoover today challenged the nations of the world to abandon aggressive warfare and join at once with the United States in making the Kellogg pact effective by reducing naval establishments and naval programs to actual defense needs.

The President's appeal for arms reduction in the interests of international peace was the high light of the capital's Memorial Day tributes to the heroes of past wars.

Fifteen thousand persons packed the dawning white amphitheater in Arlington National Cemetery and overlooking the green hillside near by while the President praised America's war dead and called for the maintenance of permanent peace as the highest honor that could be accorded their memory.

REDUCTION NEEDED
President Hoover asserted that only by actually reducing armaments can the specter of war be eliminated from the world. Neither treaties nor limitation of armaments will suffice to minimize the danger of future war, he asserted, so long as nations continue increasing their navies by competitive naval building for aggressive warfare.

The United States, President Hoover said, is committed now to a policy of reduction of naval armaments rather than limitation. The President added that this country's goal is actual reduction of existing commitments (naval building programs) to lowered levels if agreements can be reached between the major nations on a basis fair to all.

Such a treaty, however, the President said, must allow this country to maintain a just preparation for protection of its people.

At the outset of his address, President Hoover expressed confidence in the worth of the Kellogg treaty but frankly admitted that thus far the document, placed in the hands of the world to renounce war as an instrument of national policy has failed to halt competitive naval building or to slow down the arms race for new wars throughout the world.

TIME FOR SHOW-DOWN
After criticizing the continued war-like preparations now proceeding "in every important branch of the armaments industry," the President asserted the time has come for a show-down on the question of whether the document is "real" or just a scrap of paper. If the nations are to be honest with themselves, he asserted, they must consider the arms race in the light of their defensive needs.

President Hoover made it plain in discussing the American efforts at Geneva this spring in behalf of naval reduction that the United States will not accept any agreement that does not in effect actually secure existing naval establishments. Limitation of armaments was a useful idea at one time, Mr. Hoover said, but is no longer practicable. To obtain real peace, he said, there must be a show-down.

FRANCE KILLED
The race resulted in the death of a 34-year-old driver from Los Angeles, and the miraculous escape of five other drivers.

NEW HELIUM SUPPLY FOUND

Rich Deposit in Colorado Area Expected to Give Nation Lighter-than-Air Development Lead

WASHINGTON, May 30. (AP)—Discovery of a rich natural deposit of helium development of which is expected to stimulate greatly the use of lighter-than-air craft in this country, was announced here today by representatives of the Helium Company of Louisville, Ky.

The new deposit was discovered by Lieut. R. R. Bottoms, naval reserve officer and chief chemist of the helium concern, in the Shinarump helium area near government helium reserve No. 1, in Colorado.

The helium-bearing gas is present over an area of 15,000 acres, Lieut. Bottoms reports, and he believes the quantity is sufficient to give the United States undisputed world leadership in lighter-than-air development.

LABORITES RUNNING FIRST IN ENGLAND'S ELECTION

Conservatives and Liberals Lose Many Seats in Parliament; Four in Cabinet Beaten

LONDON, May 31. (Friday) (AP)—Labor party votes mowed down Conservatives and Liberals like machine-gun fire, as the returns in the first clash of the British Parliamentary general elections piled up early this morning. By 5 a. m. they had laid low four ministers in the Baldwin Cabinet and Conservative members were falling thick and fast throughout the country.

Sir Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary, was badly riddled in Birmingham, getting through by a plurality of forty-three votes and the honorable scars of battle over his Labor opponent, O. G. Willey.

Nine Cabinet ministers were re-elected. Labor brought in 120 of its candidates triumphantly to the House of Commons, the Conservatives 77, the Liberals 14, and the Independents 8, up to 5 a. m. The Labor gains could be so fast that it was difficult to count them.

WIN ONLY ONE SEAT
The Conservative party had won only a single seat from its opponents, that carried by Mr. Thomas in King's Norton, Birmingham. The Liberal party registered gains but failed to make a substantial showing in the early returns. Victor Herbert Samuel, third Liberal organizer, was one of the victors, wresting a seat from the Conservatives.

Lady Astor, American-born peeress, held her seat in the Sutton division, Plymouth, by the narrow margin of 211 votes over her Labor party opponent.

The Conservative strength was expected to show itself later today when the count from rural districts was tabulated. Only 216 returns out of 615 seats had been received at 8 a. m. today. Labor gains were heavy throughout the industrial regions, where Labor party canvassers reaped the rewards of years of patient organization.

FLAPERS AT VOLLS
Voting was heavy in contrast to the apathy which marked public interest throughout the campaign. The "flapper" voters, 1,500,000 young women between the ages of 21 and 24 years, who were enfranchised this year, went to the polls in crowds as to a tea party. They were somewhat heedless of the political claims for few women candidates were returned.

Among the Ministers re-elected are Sir Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary; Sir William Austen Chamberlain, Home Secretary; Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, Secretary of War; Sir Samuel Hoare, Air Minister; Sir Herbert Samuel, Minister of Health; Lord Hasting Peto, Minister of Education, and L. S. Amery, Secretary for the Colonies.

The three party chiefs, Premier Baldwin and former Premiers Lloyd George and MacDonald, waited until later to learn their fate. The constituencies will be tabulated this afternoon.

BALDWIN'S SON WINS
Oliver Baldwin, Socialist son of Premier Baldwin, was elected as Laborite member in Dudley, Worcester. He captured the seat by a majority of more than 3000 from his father's party.

The solitary Communist member of the last Parliament was defeated. Shapurji Saklatvala, formerly a member from Bombay, lost in North Battersea to the Laborite, Sanders, in a four-cornered fight.

Hundreds of thousands of Londoners kept watch into the small hours of the morning as the final figures shifted on hundreds of lofty screens and electric signs. Yells of delight rent the air repeatedly as Labor party's gains piled up to 108.

In Piccadilly Circus, Trafalgar Square and other world-famous centers of London, the jostling crowds took on a carnival appearance. Vendors of varicolored toy balloons crowded men in evening dress, while male celebrants waited along the pavements, masquerading in women's coats and hats.

Top of the combing of Londoners crowded with those out to see the spectacle and apparently careless of the fact that they were not getting anywhere in the tremendous traffic blockades. Low Regent street by midnight was jammed with buses fifty deep.

IN TRAFALGAR SQUARE
It was estimated that 30,000 persons packed into Trafalgar Square, where a huge stereoscopic election bulletin was mounted. Party parades even decorated the huge lions at the foot of Nelson's monument with their colors, but the police cleared them away.

In night clubs, restaurants and unchanged at 119.

hats throughout the fashionable West end, thousands of London society folk danced the hours away into early morning, while the election returns by radio broke through the music.

Bremer Baldwin spent the evening more quietly at No. 10 Downing street, his official residence, which may no longer be his after the votes have been finally tabulated today. With Mrs. Baldwin and a party of friends he listened over the radio to the Labor gains at the expense of his party.

Completion of the returns at 4 a.m. showed an aggregate vote of 3,228,067 for Labor; 2,556,601 for Conservatives; 1,804,210 for Liberals; 24,857 for Conservatives and 2,929 for Independents.

Of the total aggregate 246,737 votes were polled for women candidates of whom only four had been returned to the Commons.

FITZGERALD'S

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

By David Birmingham

The one article that gives a cheerful friendly character to a home is the piano—it makes its presence felt the moment one enters the room—it seems to bid one welcome to a home of harmony and cheerful thoughts and happy days. The lack of it gives one a sinister feeling of aloofness—a rigid atmosphere of formality that is hard to dispel—Beautiful pianos are now available in upright or grand models at surprisingly low figures. The regulation style or period designs are made in great variety to suit any home or style of architecture. A big expenditure is not necessary to have in your home a piano of distinction—of beautiful tone and one that will give years of usefulness. A grand piano in the home gives the same feeling of satisfaction to the woman of the house that the perfect gown gives to her. It's just right—satisfaction plus.

WELLINGTON (N. Z.) May 30. (P)—Commander Richard E. Byrd instructed members of his South Polar expedition who are in winter quarters at Dunedin to commemorate Memorial Day by placing floral wreaths on the Dunedin war memorial, as a gesture of amity from the expedition and the American people.

The instructions were received by wireless from Little America, the commander's base in the Ross Sea area.

WAR GRAVES OVER THERE DECORATED

Pershing Discusses World Peace at Ceremonies in Belleau Wood

PARIS, May 30. (P)—Americans have a solemn duty in striving to find a way whereby nations may settle their differences other than by force," Gen. John J. Pershing said today.

Gen. Pershing, who was in Paris today for the Memorial Day services at the Belleau Wood Cemetery, said that the war which began with a gray mist, soon became one of sunshine. Nearly every American in Paris attended one of the many services held at the various churches.

The graves of every American soldier who died in the great war were decorated and a prayer read over them by their late comrades in arms or grateful compatriots today. Whether lying in thousands grouped in the magnificent kept cemeteries at Belleau Wood, Romagne, Perre-en-Tardenois, Thiaucourt, Bony and Suresnes, or deep in the forests, all were remembered. Ten major ceremonies marked the day.

Arranged under the auspices of the American Memorial Day Association, founded in 1926 for the decoration of American soldiers' graves abroad, a task that upon every scattered grave there rested a bouquet of Flanders poppies.

THREE DIE AS BOX CAR OVERTURNS

Members of Relief Train Sent to Wreck Killed in Fatal Accident

SLATER (Mo.) May 30. (P)—Three men, members of a relief train sent to the scene of a wreck today of two Chicago and Alton Railway freight trains, were killed, caught beneath a box car which overturned. The dead: F. W. Hutchinson, 45 years of age, yardmaster for the Chicago and Alton at Slater; Harold F. Fischbein, 38, switchman; and P. H. Cole, 38, switchman, Slater.

They were killed about an hour after the wreck, which occurred four miles east of Slater. An oil-tank car in an east-bound freight train left the track and crashed into the engine of a west-bound freight train on a side track.

Four men who were seen on the east-bound train when it passed through Gilliam, Mo., a short distance from the scene of the wreck, may have perished in the flames which followed the accident, witnesses said.

Two theories of the cause of the wreck are held. One is that the oil tank's contents were ignited by the four men while smoking; and the explosion threw the car into the engine of the freight train on the siding. The other is that the tank car jumped the track because of a split rail or some other cause and exploded after crashing into the engine.

NATIONS URGED TO SLASH ARMS

Hoover Challenges World to Promote Peace

President Makes Appeal at Arlington Services

Show-down Called for on Kellogg Treaty

duction, Mr. Hoover said, it will be necessary to work out a new measuring stick for determining the fighting strength of battle craft.

TEXT OF ADDRESS

The text of the President's address follows: "Fellow-countrymen: 'Over the years since the Civil War the Grand Army of the Republic has conducted this sacred cemetery in memoriam of those who died in service of their country. The ranks of their living comrades have been steadily thinned with time. But other wars have reaped their harvest of sacrifice and these dead too, lie buried here. Their living comrades now join in conduct of this memorial, that it may be carried forward when the noble men who today represent the best of the Grand Army shall have joined those already in the great beyond."

PLEDGE RENEWED

"This sacred occasion has impelled our Presidents to express their aspirations in furtherance of peace. No more appropriate tribute can be paid to our heroic dead than to stand in the presence of their resting places and pledge renewed effort that these sacrifices shall not be claimed again."

"Today, as never before in peace, new life-destroying instrumentalities and new systems of warfare are being added to those that even so recently spread death and desolation over the whole continent of Europe. Despite those lessons every government continues to increase and perfect its armament. And while this progress is being made in the development of the science of warfare the serious question arises: Are we making equal progress in devising ways and means to avoid those frightful fruits of men's failures that have blotted with blood so many chapters of the world's history?"

"THERE IS GREAT HOPE"

"There is a great hope, for since this day a year ago a solemn declaration has been proposed by America to the world and has been signed by forty nations that they 'solemnly declare in the names of their respective peoples that they condemn recourse to war for the solution of international disputes or as an instrument of national policy in their relations with one another.'"

"They agree that the settlement or solution of all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by peaceful means."

"That is a declaration that springs from the aspirations and hearts of men and women throughout the world. It is a solemn covenant to which the great nations of the world have bound themselves."

HOOPER NO FEMINIST

"But notwithstanding this noble assurance, preparedness for war still advances steadily in every land. As a result the pessimist calls this covenant a pious expression of foreign offices, a trick of statesmen on the hopes of humanity, for which we and other nations will be held responsible without reserve. With this view I cannot agree."

"But if this agreement is to fulfill its high purpose we and other nations must accept its consequences; we must clothe faith and idealism with action. That action must march with the inexorable trend of common sense and realism to accomplishment."

"If this declaration really represents the aspirations of peoples; if this covenant be genuine proof that the world has renounced war as an instrument of national policy, it means at once an abandonment of the aggressive use of arms by every signatory nation and becomes a sincere declaration that all armaments hereafter shall be used only for defense. Consequently, if we are honest, we must reconsider our naval armament and the armaments of the world in the light of their defensive and not their aggressive use. Our Navy has served to maintain our peace and, in the world sense, the only important factor in our national preparedness. It is a powerful part of the arms of the world."

DEFENSE NEEDS RELATIVE

"To make ready for defense is a primary obligation upon every statesman and adequate preparedness is an assurance against aggression. But if we are earnestly to predicate our views upon readiness for war as an instrument of national policy, if we are to set standards that naval strength is purely for defense and not for aggression, then the strength in fighting ships required by nations is but relative to that of other powers. All nations assent to this—that defensive armaments are relative. Moreover, other nations concede our contention in naval strength with the strength of the powers for peace. With these principles before us our problem is to obtain agreement among nations that we shall march together toward reductions in naval armaments."

"Despite the declarations of the Kellogg pact, every important country has, since the signing of that agreement, been engaged in strengthening its naval arm. We are still borne on the tide of competitive building. Fear and suspicion appeal to fear, by constant enlarging of possible conflict, by stimulating the imaginations of national dangers by glorification of war. Fear and suspicion will never slacken unless we can halt competitive construction of arms. They will never appear unless we can turn this tide toward actual reduction."

YARDSTICK SOUGHT

"But to arrive at any agreement through which we can, marching in company with our brother nations, secure a reduction of armament but maintaining a just preparedness for the protection of our people we must find a rational yardstick with which to make reasonable comparison."

VANDALS VIOLATE GRAVES

Bay City Club Woman Declares One Casket Stolen and Others Opened in Odd Fellows' Cemetery

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30. (Exclusive)—A vicious touch was given San Francisco's memorial services tonight when informal charges were made that graves in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery have been desecrated. Mrs. A. E. Buckingham asserted that the Buckingham-Luchinger vault had been vandalized and a small bronze casket stolen. It contained the body of the small son of the late George Henry Luchinger, whose father was the founder of the Humboldt bank. Due to the holiday Mrs. Buckingham was unable to file formal complaint, but she indicated her intention of going to the District Attorney's office tomorrow.

Mrs. Buckingham is a club woman of prominence and a past-president of the president's assembly.

CASKETS OPENED

In addition to the casket reported removed from the vault, two other caskets were declared to have been broken into and their contents scattered about. They had contained the bodies of A. G. Luchinger, also a son of the banker, and Mrs. Luchinger, his wife.

The present administration of the cemetery, said to have been held by Mrs. Buckingham, no watchman is employed to guard the graves.

STUDENTS BLAMED

In response to questions later, some of their naval units with ours thus maintain an armed readiness for the far world has failed to find such a yardstick. To say that such a measure cannot be found is the counsel of despair. It is a challenge to the authorities of the world, it is the condemnation of the world to the slayings of competitive armaments."

The present administration of the United States has undertaken to approach this vital problem with a new program. We feel that it is a challenge to the authorities of the world, it is the condemnation of the world to the slayings of competitive armaments."

"The present administration of the United States has undertaken to approach this vital problem with a new program. We feel that it is a challenge to the authorities of the world, it is the condemnation of the world to the slayings of competitive armaments."

"ACTUAL REDUCTION" SOUGHT

"But still the net result has been the building of more fighting ships. Therefore we believe the time has come when we must demand 'actual reduction' of existing commitments to lowered levels."

"Such a program, if it is achieved, is fraught with endless blessings. The smaller the armed force be left in the hands of the nations, the less will be the number of men withdrawn from creative and productive labor. Thus we shall relieve the toilers of the nations of the deadening burden of unproductive expenditures, and above all, that deliver them from the greatest of human calamities—fear. We shall breathe an air cleared of poison, of destructive thought, and of potential war."

"MORE THAN REDUCTION"

"But the pact that we have signed by this response war as an instrument of national policy, by which we agree to settle all conflicts of whatever nature, by peaceful means, is not a mere promise. It is a declaration that we shall endeavor to develop those instrumentalities of peaceful adjustment in keeping with the spirit of the agreement. It implies that we shall endeavor to develop those instrumentalities of peaceful adjustment in keeping with the spirit of the agreement. It implies that we shall endeavor to develop those instrumentalities of peaceful adjustment in keeping with the spirit of the agreement."

"It is fitting that we should give our minds to these subjects on this occasion; that we should give voice to these deepest aspirations of the American people, in this pact. That aspiration, that the world should have peace. These dead whom we have gathered here today to honor, these valiant and unselfish souls, gave life and service to our ideals. They died that peace should be established. Our obligation is to see that it is maintained. Nothing less than our resolve to give ourselves with equal courage to the ideal of our day will serve to realize our gratitude for their sacrifices, our undying memory of their deeds, our emulation of their glorious example."

SPEECH ATTRACTS ATTENTION IN LONDON

LONDON, May 30. (Exclusive)—President Hoover's speech at Arlington outlining the United States government's new disarmament program and plans was given considerable space in the London press today. The speech, which was the first of the general election results. Commenting editorially the Daily Telegraph says:

"It was a notable speech confirming the impression that President Hoover is determined to have his administration associated with material and measurable achievements in the field of disarmament. On the basis of the new and more elastic American formula for the computation of a cruiser strength now under consideration by the United States, an agreement among them can, it is hoped and believed, at last be attained."

ARIZONA PICKS RIVER COUNSEL

Gray to Act as Peterson's Aide at Conference

No Hope for Agreement at Washington Seen

Dam State to Fight to Last Ditch for Demands

PHOENIX, May 30. (P)—Announcement was made here tonight that John Pinkham Gray of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, has been appointed a special assistant to Atty.-Gen. K. Berry Peterson of Arizona, to accompany the Arizona Colorado River Commission to its meeting with the delegates from California and Nevada.

Washington took no action when representatives of the three States met together in an effort to settle their differences.

In announcing the appointment tonight the Attorney-General stated that his action had been taken at the request of the Colorado River Commission, under authority vested in that body by the last Legislature.

OUTSTANDING LAWYER

Mr. Gray is one of the outstanding lawyers of the West, according to Atty.-Gen. Peterson, and, while he is a resident of a State outside the Colorado River territory, his practice in Arizona, Utah and Nevada has brought him into close contact with the problems of these States.

"There is hope for an agreement has not been given up by State officials, immediate court action probably will follow failure to reach an agreement at Washington, Atty.-Gen. Peterson declared.

"Arizona's commission went to the Santa Fe meeting recently prepared to make every effort to reach an agreement with our sister States. Peterson said tonight. 'After weeks of parleying and after much labor on the part of our representatives, as well as on the part of Col. William J. Donovan, at that time assistant Attorney-General of the United States, and acting as chairman of the meeting, the Colorado River Commission made definite proposals to California.'

"These proposals included great concessions on the part of this State. Anything less than was contained in them would have meant a drastic indictment of all the terms of the Swing-Johnson Bill. California did not make any counter-proposals at that meeting."

FLAN HITTER FIGHT

"Unofficial parleys were held later in California and at Yuma, but still no definite statement was forthcoming from the Coast State. The story may be different at Washington, and we hope it will be different, but Arizona does not intend to be caught napping."

"In the event of a lawsuit the action probably will be taken direct to the Supreme Court of the United States. That remains to be determined. If it is necessary, additional eminent counsel will be retained by my office as the fight develops. We are not asking much, under the terms offered to California by the Arizona commission, but we intend to fight for what we have asked to the last ditch."

"The whole State is standing squarely behind the commission and this office in the plans it has made to protect the interests of the State and to insure that Arizona is not made the victim of a compact which will divide her resources among other States or with any other State on an unequal basis."

"The Washington conference fails to end in an agreement the commission and Mr. Gray will return immediately to Phoenix for a council of war, at which plans will be mapped out for a campaign through every court that has any jurisdiction."

Gov. Phillips was not ready to make any comment on the employment of Mr. Gray tonight other than to reiterate what he has said regarding his confidence in the commission and his readiness to stand behind any action it deems necessary in the fight for Arizona's rights.

MURDER INQUIRY TO START WITH GRAVES SEARCH

VISALIA, May 30. (P)—Returning today from Sacramento, Dist. Atty. McCormick announced an immediate search will be started for bodies on the Duor farm, on suspicion that G. F. Brown, alias G. E. Franklin, killed his wife and son.

McCormick said he believed Brown had buried the bodies on the ranch. He told further details of questioning Brown and the accused man's children in Sacramento. Two of the children, Russell and Ruth Brown, said they could point out the spot on the river bank where they saw the father covering up a grave.

Officers said this spot will be the starting point for the excavations.

Sargon Brings Health After a Long Siege

"I am sixty years old. I was in a slow physical decline for over fifteen years. I tried all sorts of medicines and treatments with no lasting benefit. Then I started the Sargon treatment, and it did me more good than all the other medicines put together. "Constipation and biliousness brought on all my troubles. My tongue was nearly always heavily coated, there was a bad taste in my mouth and my color was chalky. Recently, I commenced to suffer with a severe pain in the left side of my neck. At times, it felt like it was penetrating into my brain. This was always worse at night. It made me nervous, broke into my sleep, and in the mornings I was so tired and weak, I was just about exhausted. Lately I commenced to have a slight temperature. I was frequently so dizzy I could hardly stand, or get about without holding on to something for support. "I started the Sargon treatment, and while I expected it to help me, I certainly never thought it would do as much for me as it did in such a short time. Why, I commenced to feel better right after the first few doses. Day by day I continued to improve, and by the time I had finished the first bottle, the pain in my neck had disappeared. Now, my nervousness is ended, dizziness spells are over, and I sleep like a tired boy after a hard day's fishing. I get up in the mornings rested and refreshed, feeling fine and full of energy. Sargon proved a tower of strength to me in every way. "Sargon Soft Mass Pills are the best laxative I ever took. They don't nauseate or make one sick in any other way. They started my liver active and ended my constipation and biliousness. "I certainly bless the day I started this wonderful treatment. It put me back on my feet when all other medicines had failed, and I only wish all sufferers knew as much about this remarkable treatment as I do. "The above grateful statement was recently made by Geo. F. Weaver, a highly respected farmer and resident of 1125 E. St., San Diego. Merit, and merit alone can explain the instant and phenomenal demand for Sargon. Thousands of Los Angeles people are now taking it with the most gratifying results. Sargon is not only a powerful reconstructive tonic designed to impart tone and strength to the entire system, but it is a constitutional treatment as well, and exerts a tremendous influence upon the process of digestion and elimination. A special representative of the Sargon Laboratories is personally meeting hundreds of people daily at the Owl Drug Store, 8th & Broadway, where he is explaining the therapeutic action of this revolutionary new medicine. He will give you facts, not empty promises. Sargon may also be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities. There is a Sargon dealer in every town. [Advertisement]

ST. PAUL FLYER TROPHY WINNER

Holman Victorious in First Annual Gardner Race

Course from East St. Louis to Indianapolis and Back

Speed of More Than 156 Miles an Hour Attained

EAST ST. LOUIS (Ill.) May 30. (AP)—Charles W. (Speed) Holman of St. Paul, flying at the rate of more than 156 miles an hour, led eight other flyers to the Indianapolis Speedway and return today to win the first Gardner trophy race for commercial airplanes and a cash prize of $5500. His time was 2h. 58m. and 40s. for the 468-mile flight. He flew a Laird biplane powered with a Wright Whirlwind engine. Sydney Hall of St. Louis, flying a Speedwing Travelair, won second prize of $400, finishing in 3h. 15m. and 20s. Arthur J. Davis of East Lansing, Mich., in a Waco, was third in 3h. 20m. and 53s.

NEW COWLING USED Holman said he "pulled 'er wide open," and flew at a low altitude all the way. Holman established a record of 1003 consecutive loops with an airplane in Minneapolis last year. Six of the nine planes in the race were equipped with the low-resistance cowling of the national advisory committee for aeronautics, said to add between ten and twenty miles an hour to the speed. John Wood of Wausau, Wis., winner of the national reliability tour last fall, was fourth to finish. His time was 3h. 22m. and 41s. Earl Rowland of Wichita, Kan., winner of the transcontinental race from New York to Los Angeles last year, was fifth in his "middle-wing" Cessna. Stanley D. Stinson, also of Wichita, was sixth and Dale Jackson, St. Louis, seventh.

TWO CAME TO GRIEF Two of the starters came to grief. Marvin T. O'Dell of Cincinnati was forced to land at Ireland, Ind., because of torn fabric on the fuselage of his plane, and D. C. Warren, San Francisco, landed forty miles east of here. He did not give the reason.

The trophy and cash prizes were given by Russell E. and Fred W. Gardner, who hope to make the Gardner trophy race an annual airplane race classic. The scheduled attempt by Mrs. Phoebe Fairchild Omlie of Memphis, Tenn., to break the women's altitude record was called off. Mrs. Omlie announcing that an official biograph could not be obtained.

SILENT DRAMA ENACTED AT PRISON CEMETERY

SACRAMENTO, May 30. (AP)—On a sloping hill back of Poisons prison is the cemetery of forgotten men. Memorial Day dawned today on this prison graveyard, and before the day had faded a lonely figure trudged thoughtfully with a few wild flowers in his hand to place them on a grave of another man forgotten by others in death. A single guard accompanied him, but no word passed between the two as to the identity of the man who sleeps upon this hillside of memories. This man with the wild flowers in his hand, has sealed his lips—he will not reveal the name of him who sleeps there in this lonely grave. But each Memorial Day he silently goes to decorate the grave of a man who long has been forgotten by others. A number on a slab at the end of the mound is all that remains to link him with the living world. He died with a secret sealed in his heart—his true identity—and the man who takes the flowers to his grave lives with another secret which he will not reveal, the real name of himself and the man who lies unknown in the prison graveyard.

MRS. ROGERS VISITS PARIS FOR DIVORCE

Mother of Millicent to Sue on Desertion Charge; Gossip Names Mrs. Miles

PARIS, May 30. (Exclusive)—Mrs. Henry Huddleston Rogers has established residence on the Avenue Montaigne, just off the Avenue des Champs Elysees, preparatory to petitioning in Paris courts for a divorce, it was reliably learned today.

Adrian Larkin, New York attorney, who two years ago arranged a settlement with Count Von Hooftstraeten to obtain his consent to a divorce in Paris from Mrs. Rogers's daughter, Millicent, has engaged a French lawyer to handle the mother's complaint charging her husband with desertion. Close friends of Mrs. Rogers have revealed that her husband wishes to marry Mrs. Daisy Miles, widow of Basil Miles, late president of the International Chamber of Commerce.

Parisian society, which has been gossiping about the rumor of the Rogers divorce since Mrs. Rogers arrived in Paris several weeks ago, buzzed with excitement today as the result of Count Balm, who also is now in the French capital, being seen in a friendly chat with his ex-mother-in-law during tea hour at the Ritz. It is recalled that Mrs. Rogers was always reported to have approved of the Count as a son-in-law as much as Col. Rogers disapproved.

Fairbank's Son Denies Marriage

NEW YORK, May 30. (AP)—Retracting denial of reports they were married secretly in California, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Joan Crawford, on arrival here today, said they "hope to get married soon." They said, however, they do not intend to be married in New York, and explained they are on a short vacation between pictures.

TOSCANINI DONE WITH OPERA WORK

Famous La Scala Baton Wielder Will Devote His Time to Concerts

BERLIN, May 30. (Exclusive)—At the conclusion of his presentation of "Aida," by La Scala Opera Company of Milan, Sig. Toscanini, the conductor, announced his retirement from grand opera after a career of forty years, stating that in the future he will devote himself solely to concert work, primarily in co-operation with the New York Philharmonic Symphony. Only a few persons in the capacity audience which frantically cheered Toscanini were aware that he was laying down his baton as operatic conductor. Toscanini, however, will make one final exception by conducting "Tristan" in Bayreuth next summer. La Scala's engagement in Berlin, which was concluded with a brilliant performance, was voted the outstanding musical event of many Berlin seasons. The box-office returns incidentally set a new record for Berlin.

Mexicans Will Greet Sandino

MEXICO CITY, May 30. (AP)—Special dispatches to El Universal from Vera Cruz said that the "hands-off Nicaragua committee" there announced they had been informed that Augustino Sandino, the insurgent Nicaraguan leader, was in San Salvador en route to Mexico and would arrive in Vera Cruz, early in June. A reception is being prepared in his honor.

DIES ON FRIEND'S GRAVE BOULDER CREEK, May 30. (AP)—While assisting in the decoration of the grave of a former friend at the cemetery here on observance of Memorial Day, William J. Malone, 68 years of age, woodsman, slumped over the mound, dead, a victim of heart disease.

FAMILIES FLOCK TO APARTMENTS

Statistics Show Trend from Individual Homes

Increasing Shift to Larger Dwellings Noted

Change Affects Character of Building Labor

WASHINGTON, May 30. (Exclusive)—The trend toward apartment-house dwelling continues in full swing. This fact is brought out by a table compiled by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor. The table shows the number and percentage of families housed in each class of dwelling for which permits were issued in 297 identical cities for the years 1921 to 1928, inclusive. In 1928 homes were provided in new buildings for 388,678 families in these 297 cities; 53.7 per cent of these were in apartment-houses, 25.3 per cent in one-family dwellings, and 11.1 per cent in two-family dwellings. In 1921 only 24.4 per cent were housed in apartment-houses, and 58.3 per cent were housed in one-family dwellings. This is the first year since the compilation of these data by the bureau that more families were provided in new apartment-houses than in one-family and two-family houses combined. It is the third consecutive year that more family units have been provided in apartment dwellings than in one-family dwellings. Just what effect this change in the type of dwelling will have on the social, economic and political life of the country is hard to determine. That it will have its impact on the character, life and customs of the people is an undoubted fact. As before pointed out by the bureau, it is changing the character of building labor by giving more work to certain trades, namely, structural iron workers, concrete workers, marble and stone cutters, and less to other trades, especially carpenters. In the fourteen cities of the United States having a population of 500,000 or more, 67.3 per cent of the families provided for in 1928 were housed in apartment buildings, 22.1 per cent in one-family dwellings and 10.7 per cent in two-family dwellings. In 1927 the same classes of dwellings in these cities housed 60.4 per cent, 25.8 per cent and 13.4 per cent, respectively. These fourteen cities provided new dwelling places for 238,113 families in 1927 and 232,681 families in 1928.

WINS INDIANAPOLIS RACE BEFORE RECORD-BREAKING THROG, "GIMME A TAREYTON" FIRST REQUEST AT END OF GRIND

"GIMME A TAREYTON!" Here's the winner of the 1929 Decoration Day race at Indianapolis, snapped at the wheel of the car he drove to victory. Yes, that's a Tareyton he's smoking. It was the first thing he asked for after the race was over. Looks happy, doesn't he?

Cameras Click as Ray Keech Lights Cigarette After Gruelling Five Hundred Mile Endurance Race

"NOT A BIT NERVOUS," HE CHEERFULLY TELLS CIGARETTE REPORTERS

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., May 30, 1929—A flying bullet-on-wheels flashed across the finish line here today as the checkered flag dropped on the year's greatest motor classic.

A smoke-begrimed car rolled to a halt before a pit loaded with joy-wild mechanics. Crowds surged about the car. Hands reached out to greet the winner.

Goggles swept back from a grease-blackened face. A white grin spread across his countenance. "Gimme a Tareyton," he demanded.

This was the scene that today marked the end of a five-hour battle of speed and skill and nerve. This, the winner's first thought, as cameras clicked and interviewers began their fire of questions.

"I feel fine," said the victor, when reporters had a chance to make themselves heard. "A little tired . . . but feeling fine. My nerves!" He glanced at the Tareyton in his hand and laughed . . .

"Steady as Gibraltar!" he said.

A veritable field day for Tareyton was today's big meet. Everywhere you saw them . . . in the pockets of mechanics' overalls, passing from hand to hand in the judges' pavilion, among the gathered thousands of the largest crowd ever collected for a sporting event.

Make 7-Day Nerve Test

Pick the winner if you want the utmost in cigarette pleasure. For your health's sake it will pay you to make the famous 7-day nerve test.

Remember . . . one cigarette smoked right after another won't tell you a thing. It takes several days . . . a week at least . . . really to pass honest judgment on a cigarette.

So when you stop in at the nearest tobacco store . . . buy a carton of Tareytons. Give them a thorough test . . . smoke Tareytons only for just a week.

THEY'RE OFF! There they go . . . down the track, started on the long, hard grind. Plenty of thrills were supplied the spectators here yesterday as these crack drivers roared around this famous track. This picture shows you the pits, where mechanics wait with oil, gas, water and parts to render split-second service to drivers. Everybody under constant nerve tension . . . so naturally, Tareyton smokers were to be found everywhere. A part of the record-breaking crowd appears in the background.

Among them were many Tareyton smokers, cigarette investigators reported.

Holiday Program

NEW YORK, May 30. (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals remained second place in the three-cornered National League race by taking both ends of a double-header from the Cincinnati Reds today, 3 to 1 and 2 to 1.

On top of a double victory over the Reds yesterday, The Pirates, by splitting a double-header with the Chicago Cubs, re-secured second place, while the Cardinals slipped to third.

The Cardinals' victory in the first game, which saw the man of the hour, Travis Jackson, and Bob O'Farrell, who pitched three innings and an edge of one in the home half of the eighth, but this advantage was replaced by a deficit when Johnny Frederick hit for the circuit in the Brooklyn section of the ninth, with one man on base.

The Cardinals then turned on their winning rally.

Max Carey wrenched his left ankle in rounding first base in the ninth inning of the first game, and had to be carried from the field by two men.

Heckrich hit safely in the first inning, running his streak to twenty-five consecutive games, but failed in the ninth.

Athletics Smash Red Sox in Double-Header

Indians, White Sox Divide as Faber Features

WASHINGTON, May 30. (AP)—The Washington Senators continued their tactics of regaining against New York percentage points lost to the Athletics by trimming the Yankees in the holiday double bill today, 4 to 3 and 4 to 3.

A ninth-inning rally against Johnson, Moore and Zachary good for three runs, gave the Senators the second contest after Hadley had been driven from the mound. They pounded Miller Huggins' once-brilliant left-hander, Herb Pennock. The Senators got twenty-six hits in the two games to fourteen for New York. Scores:

Hedeman Sets Derby Record

LORDSBURG (N. M.) May 30. (AP)—Herbert Hedeman, 55 years old, the oldest entry in C. G. Pyle's bunion derby, established a new mark for sixty-four miles in observance of Memorial Day when he ran the sixty-first lap of the derby from Lordsburg, N. M., to Lordsburg in 27m. 40s. Hedeman is an Australian by birth but a resident of New York.

Hedeman, bearded and plainly showing his age, advanced to eighth place in elapsed time by his victory, defeating Harry Abramowitz, New York. He averaged 7.6 miles an hour over the poorest type of roads, beneath a blazing desert sun. The two chased time leaders, Pete Conrath, England, and Johnny Hale, Passaic, N. J., tied for second in 2:34:15. Gavuzzi returned his lead of 21m. and 10s. for elapsed time.

POINT FERMIN, May 30. (AP)—The booming of the guns on Uncle Sam's men of war commemorating Memorial Day with a salute from their two-hundred batteries at high noon, two-hundred Southland racing yachts dipped their bows into the blue waters of the outer harbor and started on the first leg of the four-day squadron cruise sponsored by the Southern California Yacht Association.

The racing fleet got off to a perfect start on the opening lap of the four-day battle with the sea and the elements. The tiny white-winged sailing boats presented a stunning picture as they slipped away from the harbor and headed for the Isthmus at Catalina where they will drop their hooks tonight.

BABE IN LEAD

Owen Churchill's King of Spain Trophy winner, the Babe, an eight-meter sloop, was the first boat to show her nose ahead of the pack after the boats had sailed past the starting point almost as a unit. The Babe with Ted Comant at the helm seemed to throw herself into the race with the spirit of a thoroughbred. Rounding the breakwater the Babe put up her anchor 10th, took a commanding lead over the rest of the racing yachts.

Charles Larkin and his big schooner Wanderer II closely followed by Tommy Lee sailing the tiny six-meter sloop, the Harpoon, were in hot pursuit of the Babe as they disappeared in a west-southwest blow in the direction of Catalina Island.

Al Salisbury had the yawl Westward in fourth place with the Amoria skippered by A. M. Kemp coming in her heels. The Willette and the Barbara Jean, two trim-looking schooners, were next in line. The rest of the fleet was pretty well bunched together as they sailed out of sight.

The yachts which started in today's race which incidentally is the first four-day squadron cruise in the history of West Coast yachting were: The Babe, skippered by Ted Comant; the Harpoon, skippered by Tommy Lee; the Willette, skippered by William Wallace; the Barbara Jean, skippered by Don Douglas; the Amoria, skippered by A. M. Kemp; the Westward, skippered by F. E. Barden; the Wanderer, skippered by Al Salisbury; the Menem, skippered by Don Ayers; the Johnnie, skippered by F. Dickson; the Masta, skippered by W. G. Lane; the Patricia, skippered by Temple Ashpole; and the Amoria, skippered by A. N. Kemp.

The racing yachts were accompanied by a fleet of power cruisers and other pleasure craft, although not entered in the race, will go along over the entire course.

REST AT ISTHMUS

The racing fleet will anchor tonight at Catalina and tomorrow they will begin the second leg of the cruise which takes them from the Isthmus to Kell's Shelter at Point Dume. Today's lap is nineteen and one-half miles. Tomorrow the boats will cover approximately thirty miles. Saturday they will race on a course marked off Santa Monica and Ocean Park. Sunday they head for Harbor Light where the cruise ends.

The race will be conducted on a handicap basis, the committee in charge announced. Sloops will race in one class, schooners, yawls and ketches in another.

The starting committee felt a little disappointed when the weather, owned by Al Christie, and the Pirata, which now belongs to O. K. Hunsaker, failed to put in an appearance for the race. These two sloops are in the B class, which was the one division without a starter.

The racing skippers and their families will participate in a buffet supper Sunday night at the California Yacht Club, where the prizes will be awarded by the Forty-Five-Foot Sailing Association and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce regatta committee. Henry (Skip) Warren and Paul Hillier were the officials who sent the fleet off on the first leg of the cruise.

Outboard Meet

on Tap Sunday

Fan interest in outboard motor boat racing, stimulated in the Southland by the recent competitions at Elsinore and the Salton Sea, will be given a new impetus by the races to be staged each Sunday this summer at the new Venice Motor Boat Speedway, on Washington Boulevard near Venice.

So believe O. E. Runaker, president of the Southern California Outboard Association, who is heartily in accord with plans for the summer outboard regatta staged out by officials of the new speedway. The inaugural program scheduled for this Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, promises to launch the new venture most auspiciously.

Practically all of the Southland's leading outboard pilots have filed entries, and keen competition is expected when they meet in the events which will christen the new course. Grand stands to accommodate 5000, and parking facilities to care for at least this number of motor cars, have been installed at the speedway, and indications are that the inaugural races will attract a capacity attendance, according to John E. Tito, local sportsman, who is the sponsor of the inaugural waterway.

to stop with only five miles to go and with second place apparently clinched. Moore jumped into the car and started a mad dash on his last two laps, but a connecting rod turned out on the back stretch and he was forced to quit. The stop cost Moore exactly $10,000, second prize money.

Meyer's time for the five-city grand tour was 5:18:40.21, and Gleason, in third place, finished in 5:20:10.40.

MILWAUKEE FOURTH

Carl Marchese, a youthful Milwaukee driver, finished fourth, while Speed Gardner, another Philadelphia driver, was fifth and Fred Wynn, also of Philadelphia, sixth. Louis Chilton, of Paris, France, one of two foreign entries, and 1928 European champion, finished seventh with Billy Arnold of Chicago, eighth. Cliff Bergers of Los Angeles was ninth and Fred Frame of Philadelphia was awarded tenth place. He was flagged down without finishing.

Experts consider it miraculous that only one driver was killed. Cliff Woodbury of Chicago, and audacious dirt track driver, narrowly escaped death when his car crashed into the northwest turn retaining wall on the third lap. Woodbury escaped with only a shaking up and went back into the race as a relief driver. Jules Moricourt, another French driver, in the race also was in a smashup when his car turned over as he was finishing his 100th mile. The car piloted by Deacon Litz ran off the track on the fifty-sixth lap at the time he was in the lead. It was so badly twisted that he was unable to resume. He won $4000 in lap prizes, however.

Two other drivers also were in smashups and fortunately escaped.

PERFECT WEATHER

The day was perfect for racing but blistering hot for the spectators. It was a typical summer crowd that jammed the mile-long grandstands and packed the infield. The male spectators shed their coats in an effort to keep as cool as possible while their fair companions were dressed in summer attire—in greens, pinks, lavenders, and the colors now fashionable.

A furious pace was set for the first 100 miles with Deacon Litz in his special, the same machine used by Meyer in winning a year ago, out in front of the thundering brigade. His margin was less than a quarter of a lap with Lou Moore in hot pursuit.

CLOSE CONTEST

It was a remarkable close race among the three leaders when the first century of the long grind had been reeled off. Litz still held command of the situation, but was only twenty-seven seconds ahead of Moore, who in turn was in front of Meyer.

Only fifteen seconds separated these two. Babe Stapp had pushed his car from seventh to fourth place and he was followed by Leon Duray. Tony Gulotta was sixth and Jimmy Gleason had moved up to seventh.

At 150 miles Moore was out in front with Louis Meyer closely following and Jimmy Gleason on the same lap in third position. Litz went out of the race shortly before this post had been reached. Frame had milled his way through the cauter fumes from ninth to fifth place.

At 200 miles Meyer and Moore still were in a neck-and-neck battle for the leadership with the former having a slight advantage. Frame had moved up from fifth to third and Gleason was fourth and Keesch fifth. Keesch followed and in order were Wynn, Marchese, Gulotta and Farmer. The time was 1 hour 57 minutes 25 seconds and the average was 102.192 miles an hour.

FIFTEEN KNOCKED OUT

Fifteen of the speeding machines were knocked out when the half-way mark had been reached and it was expected when they met in the events which will christen the new course. Grand stands to accommodate 5000, and parking facilities to care for at least this number of motor cars, have been installed at the speedway, and indications are that the inaugural races will attract a capacity attendance, according to John E. Tito, local sportsman, who is the sponsor of the inaugural waterway.

When 300 miles had been reached, a strange coincidence was that the race numbers carried on the machines were heading the procession exactly as their flashing numbers. Meyer, driving No. 1, was first;

Hagen Proves Diplomatic

LONDON, May 30. (AP)—Walter Hagen, with the gesture of a diplomat, quickly smoothed the ruffled feeling of the British on his arrival from Berlin this morning.

There was a threat of an international incident when the open golf champion tried to cancel his scheduled golf matches with Archie Compston.

"I'm just in time to vote," said Hagen, "I don't know who to vote for even if I had a vote, for as far as I can see, whatever party is in power, Britain is a good place to be in and I love it."

When he learned that the British public would be greatly disappointed if forced to forego the pleasure of seeing the exhibitions, he decided to play.

Keesch in No. 2, was second, and Moore in No. 3, was third. Meyer was approximately one lap out in front of Keesch, who was on the same lap as Moore. Frame in fourth place was three laps behind and Marchese, in fifth position, six laps in the rear.

MORE DROP OUT

Fifty more miles were clipped off without change in the leadership. The first three cars, Meyer leading Keesch and Moore by a lap and a quarter, Frame still occupied fourth place and Marchese fifth. A stop at the pits cost Meyer the lead between the 300 and 400 miles; with 100 miles to go, the order was Keesch first, Moore second, Meyer third, and Marchese fourth. For the first time during the race, Chiron, the European champion, showed among the first ten. Nine of the speed creations had received solar Plexus punches for one reason or another at the 400-mile mark, leaving only fourteen of the original starters in the field.

DASH FOR PRIZE

When 450 miles had been reached and it was a frantic dash for the prize to go to the winner, only 10-1-2 seconds separated Keesch and Kleeper, who had relieved Moore. They were a full two laps ahead of Meyer in third and Marchese in fourth, with nine laps behind the leaders. Gleason was within grasp of Marchese in fifth and Arnold was sixth. The other order was Gardner, Chiron and Frame.

SPENCE FOUND DEAD

WHERE HE WANTED TO BE

Bill Spence was a fatalist. When it came his time to die, he wanted death to claim him while he gripped the steering wheel of a racing automobile in his hands. This knowledge is what bolstered up the courage and made less poignant the grief of his death yesterday on the Indianapolis Speedway to the little family group who gathered at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Robert Fairchild, 4416 South Gramercy Place.

Spence, his aunt, he leaves his widow, Vivian, 33 years of age, to whom he was married three years ago; his mother, Mrs. Anna B. Spence, and stepfather, Grover Spence, of 128 South Mainland street, and grandmother, Mrs. Leha Sachs, who resides at the Orangeray street address.

PLANNED TO RETIRE

Spence, who would have been 23 June 9, next, left Los Angeles from Elbert (Babe) Stapp, a racer about six weeks ago for the East by automobile, intending to participate in races until the close of the racing season next October, his wife said. He then intended to retire and build a home here, she said. Word of his death was first received by long-distance telephone. Shortly afterward came calls from Fred and August Duesenberg, for whom Spence was racing, she said.

Beginning his racing career at the age of 17, Spence raced on practically every large track in the country. Last year he placed seventh in the Indianapolis classic, second in Detroit, fourth in New Hampshire and was awarded tenth place in the national racing championship and the Pacific Coast championship. He had raced at Acot Speedway on numerous occasions and had the distinction of winning the Italian helmet for ten consecutive weeks.

He was born in Los Angeles and attended Manual Arts High School.

FUNERAL ARRANGEMENTS

Arrangements are being made by the family to have the body shipped here. It is tentatively planned to conduct the funeral at the Little Church of the Flowers at Forest Lawn Memorial Park under the direction of Ivy Overholser. An uncle, Isaac Sachs of Omaha, was notified of the tragedy by relatives here and is believed to have left for Indianapolis to take charge of arrangements there.

Stapp was a participant in the race and is assumed to have said that it was his last when he informed relatives of Spence's death.

Fishing Good

at June Lake

With scores of record catches reported from all sections of the High Sierras, the 1935 trout fishing season swung into action yesterday. The districts on the lower levels had opened their seasons on May 1, but the hundreds of icy lakes and rushing streams in the High Sierras did not open under State law until yesterday.

The greatest catches were reported yesterday from June Lake, "the father of all waters" in this district. Scores of giant steelhead trout ranging in size from three to nine pounds were brought in from June Lake. When they were weighed in at June Lodge and Isaac Waltons reported that the fish were as hungry as any kind of lure and spinner.

JUNIORS PLAN CLUB MATCHES

California Golfers Pioneer New Competition

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

W. O. "Bill" Pryor, president of the California Country Club, is interested in seeing the club's younger members advance with the result that California will pioneer an inter-club series of team matches for juniors.

Gene Brown, a 10-year-old young California star and manager of the champions 11 p Los Angeles High School golf team, heads the juniors at California and yesterday announced that the club's younger members will pioneer an inter-club series of team matches for juniors.

The matches Pryor and Brown have outlined will be played on a basis similar to the interclub team match championship of Southern California. Golfers under 21 are not eligible to compete in the major interclub competition, and heretofore there has been no inter-club play for junior golfers.

Brown has named California's first team as follows: Paul Rooney, Marshall Matthews, Jack Rooney, Francis Rooney, Ernie Oswald, Elmer Williams, Bill O'Keefe, Joe Richardson and Don Nittinger.

Few sections of the country have as many junior stars as Southern California, and the team matches promise to be a success. California plans to play a number of matches this summer and other clubs are expected to organize junior squads and follow suit.

FAY COLEMAN IN FINALS

Tackles Frank Stevens, Jr., in Semifinals of State Championship; McHugh, Neville Meet

Angeles, 6-5, and over Lawson Little of San Francisco, 1 up. In the lower bracket, Fay Coleman, Los Angeles youngster, disposed of George Ritchie, San Francisco, 2 and 1, and finished his quarter-final round with a 5-4 win over L. Decker of San Jose.

Coleman tomorrow will match strokes with a fellow-townman, Francis Stevens, Jr., who worked up at the expense of two Oakland golfers, E. J. Hadden and Claire Goodwin. Stevens trounced Hadden, 7 and 6, and put out Goodwin, 3 and 2. Two rest ups in the second round brushed aside Harry Eichelberger of Los Angeles and Harry Thompson of Glendale. The two opponents not figured in their class. Eichelberger was defeated by L. Decker, 4 and 2, and Thompson bowed to Goodwin, 1 up.

This morning's round between McHugh and De Paolo was all square at the ninth. At the fifteenth, McHugh had a lead of three holes but the latter turned in three long putts to win the sixteenth and seventeenth. After missing a twenty-five-foot chip shot by a hair, when his ball rolled across the cup on the eighteenth, De Paolo conceded the hole. If he had dropped the ball for a birdie, the match would have gone to extra holes, as McHugh was down in five.

In the afternoon, McHugh was three up on Stroud at the ninth, but the latter squared the match by taking the next three holes. McHugh won the thirteenth and halved the fourteenth and Stroud won the fifteenth to square things again. McHugh took another one-up lead with a win on the sixteenth but Stroud evaded up matters by annexing the seventeenth. Coleman, who had been figured by dopsters as a finalist against McHugh, was not so pressed in his two rounds, but had some difficulty with Ritchie in the morning. They were square at the seventh and halved the eighth, but Coleman took a one-up lead at the ninth. Against Decker Coleman shot 31 for the first nine to become two up. He won the eleventh, halved the twelfth and won the thirteenth and fourteenth in par four and five to end the match, 5-4.

The return of the crowd, Neville fought a great uphill battle against Little in the quarter-finals. At the ninth Little was three up and at the thirteenth he still had a hole lead. Neville won the next three holes to become two up, but the San Francisco boy squared the match with his win on the seventeenth. Little broke on the eighteenth and after sending his drive and fourth shot into the ocean, conceded the match.

As the best he would have been on the green in five to Neville's three as the latter was straight down the course.

FAVORITES ADVANCE IN WOMEN'S PLAY

DEL MONTE, May 30. (AP)—Favorites in the quest for California's women's golf crown advanced through the first round of match play on the Del Monte links today in easy fashion.

Mrs. Brent Potter of San Jose disposed of Mrs. Harriet Hume of Oakland, 3 and 4; Mrs. Gregg Lutz of Los Angeles defeated Mrs. E. S. Brown of Hollywood, 2 and 2; and Mrs. Harry Frouder of Huntington downed Miss Angie Parkhurst, 7 and 6.

Today's results:

McARTHUR BEATS ROBBINS IN JUNIOR TENNIS PLAY

Hugh McArthur, San Diego's junior net flash, disposed of Clay Robbins, local court star, in straight sets to gain the semifinal bracket of the junior boys' singles event yesterday at Midwick Country Club.

McArthur won the match by scores of 9-7, 6-6. As a result of his victory over Robbins McArthur meets Ellsworth Vines in the semifinals tomorrow afternoon.

Every event in the Southern California junior tennis championship meet, will be completed up to the finals by tomorrow night so that the young players will not have more than one event to wear themselves out about on the final day.

WOMEN TO JOIN WORLD'S FIGHT
Three Million Will War for Everlasting Peace. Support of World Court to be Urged on Clubs. Members Asked to Help Put Down Snobbishness.

SWAMPSCOTT (Mass.) May 30. (Exclusive)—The nearly 8,000,000 members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs soon will receive a call to arms in behalf of the World Court. It was announced today during the report of the committee on international relations at the biennial council meeting here. The federation long has been on record as an advocate of the World Court and no further enunciation of its policy will be necessary, but when the measure again is presented to the United States Senate the women already will be primed for action.

Their information will come directly from Elhu Root himself, who held a conference at his home on the 17th inst. with twelve women representing the various organizations affiliated under the conference on the cause and cure of war, of which the General Federation of Women's Clubs is one. He outlined to them in detail the present status of World Court negotiations, and a letter will be sent soon to all club leaders, summing up the remarks of Mr. Root on that occasion.

MUST BACK HOOVER
President Hoover in his wisdom expects at the regular session of congress to reintroduce the project of our entrance into the League of Nations. The women of the federation must be ready when the President calls to stand back of the World Court. It will be our task to mass public opinion in a great phalanx which cannot be withstood.

Mrs. Pennybacker also talked about a proposed conference of women of the inter-American countries, which she said first had been planned before the World War and now is awaiting a favorable opportunity.

"When the first Pan-American conference was held in 1916 the women who attended were appointed specially because they were the wives of delegates—perfectly charming, cultured, intelligent women but not trained in the study of international relations," she said. "We realized that another conference should be called that would have as its members the women who occupy positions of leadership in their communities. We were sure that this to be postponed but we hope it can be held before long."

President Hoover in his wisdom expects at the regular session of congress to reintroduce the project of our entrance into the League of Nations. The women of the federation must be ready when the President calls to stand back of the World Court. It will be our task to mass public opinion in a great phalanx which cannot be withstood.

Mrs. Pennybacker also talked about a proposed conference of women of the inter-American countries, which she said first had been planned before the World War and now is awaiting a favorable opportunity.

"When the first Pan-American conference was held in 1916 the women who attended were appointed specially because they were the wives of delegates—perfectly charming, cultured, intelligent women but not trained in the study of international relations," she said. "We realized that another conference should be called that would have as its members the women who occupy positions of leadership in their communities. We were sure that this to be postponed but we hope it can be held before long."

NEXT SESSION TALKED OF
Mrs. John P. Sippel, president of the federation, explained later in the day that the call to such an inter-American conference of women is awaiting the assembling of some gathering of men leaders from the countries when it will be more interesting for the women to attend.

It has been suggested that the 1921 council of the General Federation be held in Havana, when special attention will be paid to the problems of the Latin-American countries, but no decision has been made.

Mrs. Ambrose Diehl of Pittsburgh, chairman of the motion-picture committee of the federation, announced a plan for previews of pictures in Hollywood which has just been made available for the women who wish to disseminate their communities their opinions of forthcoming pictures. Diehl urged the clubs to avail themselves of this scheme by appointing local chairmen whose business it will be to circulate the reports from Hollywood.

WOMEN URGED TO FIGHT SNOBISHNESS
SWAMPSCOTT (Mass.) May 30. (P)—Women's campaign to eliminate "snobbishness" from the American and to glorify the art and consciousness of the Western Hemisphere was outlined tonight by Dr. Otona Ferrara, Ambassador of Cuba, in an address before the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

"American soil is created in the early days of liberty on this continent," said the Ambassador. "It is both the American continent, a single ideal, one aspiration, stirred in the breasts of all. Those nations which achieved independence first aided the others."

"Then the strongest of all dictated to the world its famous doctrine: The liberty won at great sacrifice by America would not be lost except by the sacrifice of all America."

"The peoples of the South," he continued, "saw sanctioned by the great people of the North, the right to be free, a right won at the cost of blood and tears."

"If Pan-Americanism receives the unflinching support of women's organizations, if it is nurtured by the heartening influence of the feminine soul, its purposes will be ennobled and it will be sanctified."

The Ambassador said there exists a certain snobbishness in the Americas which makes it difficult to bring together our social elements. "Both North and South," he added, "prefer to look to the ancient cradles of their traditions and of their ancestors rather than to the peoples nearer at hand."

"Knowing each other better would make this snobbishness disappear."

SHIFT LOOMING
ON DEBENTUREOutlook for Early Recess by Congress BrightensConferees Given Summons for Get-Together TodaySigns of Conciliation Seen in Resumed Meetings

WASHINGTON, May 30. (P)—A prospective conciliation within the farm-relief conference committee over the export-debenture plan caused administration leaders to look forward confidently today to an all-summer recess beginning early in June.

A meeting of the conference has been called for tomorrow by Senator McNary of Oregon, its chairman. While no definite agreement has been announced, resumption of the meetings has been taken to mean that the conferees have reached an understanding for the Senate members to agree to eliminate the disputed provision opposed by President Hoover as a part of farm legislation.

The leaders admit, however, that the outcome of the debate controversy between the House and Senate still would be in doubt even should the Senate conferees decide to take a report back to the Senate suggesting the elimination of the plan.

Senate leaders are convinced that if the Senate itself insists on the provision it will be impossible for Congress to recess.

PLAN OF ACTION

President Hoover and Senator McNary of Indiana, the Republican leader, have made known that they would not favor a recess until farm relief is disposed of and a date set for a final vote on the tariff bill before the convening of the regular session next December. The plan, contingent on the enactment of farm legislation, is for the Senate Finance Committee to work on the tariff bill during the recess and for Congress to return early in fall to complete the special session program of the administration.

The House is slated to act on the census and reapportionment bill before the recess, but this is expected to be accomplished without difficulty. In the Senate a showdown probably will be seen on the recommendation of President Hoover for the repeal of the national origins provisions of the Immigration Act which goes into effect July 1, next. Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, is leading those favoring retention of the provision and believes he has the votes to defeat the resolution of Senator Nye, Republican, North Dakota, for its repeal.

BOTH HOUSES TO MEET

Both Senate and House will meet tomorrow but leaders are doubtful that quorums will be obtained, failing in this, a recess until Monday will be taken.

The Senate has before it the bill of Senator Borah of Idaho to place commission merchants dealing in perishable products under government control.

Consent of the House members of the farm-relief conference committee to resume meetings is taken to indicate that work will be continued until an agreement has been reached on all of the disputed sections of the two farm bills passed separately by the House and Senate. The plan for the conference meeting is to have the conferees consider all minor differences first and leave the debenture section to the last.

committee recommendation of the debenture section would not necessitate a vote in the House which assurance is what House conferees have been insisting upon. The Senate conferees had desired a report of disagreement which would have required a vote in the House.
It was over this difference that the House members abruptly broke off their contention is seen in the resumption of the sessions.

Some concern is being manifested by Republican leaders, however, over a check of the Senate membership, which is held to show as much support for the debenture plan as the conference committee is ready to report a number of Senators who are watching the situation closely and are hopeful that by the time the conference committee is ready to report a number of Senators will be willing to forego their own wishes and accept a report recommending elimination of debentures in order to obtain a farm law early enough to benefit this year's crops.

FORTY PER CENT OF STATE'S VOTE HERE

Figures released by William M.
Kerr, county registrar of voters, yesterday indicate that Los Angeles county has 40 per cent of the total of the State, and at the last general election 41 per cent of the State's vote was cast in this county.

With California entitled to seventy-two Representatives, an estimated from a reasonable forecast of 1930 Federal census figures, which will be the basis of reapportionment voted in the Senate, Los Angeles county should be entitled to six or seven of the number. Of the State's eleven two new are elected here.

At the election last autumn, when 2,313,516 persons were registered,
1,846,077 votes were cast in the entire State. There were 925,292 registered in Los Angeles county and 750,081 votes cast, or more than the total vote of the ten next largest counties—San Francisco, Alameda, San Diego, Santa Clara, Sacramento, Fresno, San Bernardino, Orange, San Joaquin and Kern.

While Congress has not yet determined how to apportion the new California members of the lower house, Mr. Kerr suggests that if they follow the logic of arithmetic three representatives will be elected from Los Angeles city and three more from the rest of the county.

DATE FOR TARIFF
CONSIDERATION SET

WASHINGTON, May 30. (P)—
The Senate Finance Committee on Finance will commence consideration of the tariff bill on Tuesday, June 11, next, beginning with the agricultural schedule.

Inasmuch as California is interested directly in many of the items falling within this schedule, Senator Shortridge, a member of the committee, has called a meeting of the California delegation for tomorrow to arrange for the presentation of additional or supplementary factual facts or arguments in regard to California items. By this means California will have ample time to reach here to present arguments in person or to file necessary arguments or briefs for further tariff protection on California products.

Parachute Fails to Save Jumper

DENVER, May 30. (P)—Norman
J. Lee, Colorado Springs parachute jumper, died early tonight from injuries received, two hours earlier when his chute failed to function in a 1500-foot drop over the Colorado Airway Field, here.

A holiday crowd of several thousands saw the fall, but most of them did not realize that he was injured fatally.

The parachute opened, airman witnesses said, and immediately folded up again, staying sufficiently expanded, however, to partly break Lee's fall. Examination of the parachute after the accident disclosed that it had ripped from edge to center, probably from the force of the wind.

WASHINGTON, May 30. (P)—

Jersey, one of the eight women in the House of Representatives, believes the new tariff bill "will do more to force women into politics than all the academic discussions

Describing the measure as a challenge to every housewife in the country, Mrs. Norton in a statement today declared that if the bill becomes a law "we are going to find everything we eat, drink and wear selling at a price beyond the means of the average woman."

INDUSTRY CUTS
DEATH TOTALS

Accident Fatalities 636 in State for 1928

French Reports Reduction
More Than 10 Per Cent

Material Decrease Shown in Permanent Injuries

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30. (Exclusive)—The lowest industrial death list in the history of the Industrial Accident Commission in California was reported for the year
1928 by Will J. French of the State Department of Industrial Relations, to the Governor's council.

The report shows the number of industrial deaths in California during 1928 were 636, as compared with 714 in the year 1927 and 748 in 1926.
The difference of seventy-eight deaths between 1928 and 1927 gives a reduction of 10.9 per cent.

DISASTER FIGURES

French points out that there is included in the 1928 list approximately fifty deaths charged to industry growing out of the St. Francisco disaster and states that a number of these probably were generously viewed so far as an industrial death as against 1038 in 1927, or a reduction of eighty-eight per cent.
Employees engaged in vehicular service contributed the greatest number to the industrial fatality list, which, however, met their deaths in such accidents. Public utilities contributed eighty-five deaths, engineering construction, eighty-four;
building construction, sixty-seven;
falls, 102.

INJURIES REDUCED

The report also shows a material decrease in permanent injuries during the year of 1928 with a total of 947 as against 1038 in 1927, or a reduction of eighty-eight per cent.

The report recommends there be no let down in accident prevention work and states the Industrial Accident Commission is receiving splendid co-operation from all industrial groups, some of which are planning safety schools.

State-wide decrease in unemployment during the last ten months is shown also in the report, which records that from July 1, 1928, to the 1st inst. State employment agencies have found jobs for 124,678 men and women as compared with 116,892 placements for the period between July 1, 1927, and May 1, 1928.

PORTES GIL

National University of Mexico to be Taken Out of Politics

MEXICO CITY, May 30. (P)— President Portes Gil will call the Mexican Congress into extraordinary session to confer autonomy on the Mexican National University.
The legislative act, it is presumed here, will divorce the school from politics and the ordinary national governmental bodies.

The President announced this integration last night, when answering striking students of the university in their demand for resignation of the Minister of Education, the university rector, the Federal District
Chief of Police and others.
He refused to accede to this demand, but said he believed conferring of autonomy on the institution would settle their difficulties and that he is taking steps to that end.
The students of the law school struck nearly three weeks ago in protest at the innovation of monthly examinations.

Rotarians Vote to Convene in Foreign Lands

DALLAS (Tex.) May 30. (P)—Rotarians gathered here for their annual international convention upheld a move to hold more conventions in foreign lands when a resolution was passed declaring that the 1934 meeting and at least every fourth convention thereafter should be held outside of North America.

The delegates refused to abandon the slogan "He profits most who serves best" in spite of arguments from foreign delegates who said that the slogan, translated into foreign tongues, had a much more commercial connotation than it has in English.

Another resolution approved gives a traveling Rotarian the privilege of attending Rotary meetings whenever he may happen to be. One resolution very important to Italian clubs, which provides that a statement be prepared on the relation of the Rotarian to his country, was passed unanimously. Italian Rotarians, under the Fascist regime, wanted it made clear that their duty to Rotary in no way interferes with their duty to their country.

'CHICAGO MAY' PASSES AWAY

Notorious Woman Criminal Was 52 Years of Age;
Figured in Many Spectacular Thefts

PHILADELPHIA, May 30. (P)—"Chicago May" Churchill, reformed criminal of international notoriety, died today in the Philadelphia General Hospital. She was 52 years of age.

She was taken to the hospital Monday for an operation for an abdominal disorder, just before she was to have married Robert Considine (alias Charles Smith) another reformed criminal who was known to police throughout the world.

"Chicago May's" maiden name was said to have been Beatrice Desmond, although she used many other names. She had been married twice, and her last name, according to hospital records, was Mrs. May Churchill Sharpe.

"Chicago May" came to this country from England when she was 15, and in a published memoir admitted that she stole money from her father to make the trip. Her most notorious crime was the theft of $35,000 from the American Express Company at Paris, France.

She and her companion, Eddie Guerrin, were caught by French police. She was sentenced to three years in a French jail, and Guerrin was transported to Devil's Island, a French penal colony. After her release from jail, "Chicago May" got enough money to charter a yacht and cruised to Devil's Island, where she effected the release of Guerrin by bribery.

"Chicago May" spent at least fifteen years of her life in prison. The man she was to marry, Considine, has spent twenty. Before her death she said she was the only man who fully understood her, and was the only friend she ever had.

expected development caused delay

Others, most of whom returned

A new
Solo Endurance Record

FLYING a Wright motored, stock Lockheed cabin monoplane, using Richfield Aviation Gasoline and Richlube Motor Oil, Herbert J. Fahy, chief test pilot of the Lockheed Aircraft Company, set a new solo endurance record without refueling—remaining in the air 36 hours, 56 minutes, 36 seconds.

Fahy took off from Metropolitan Airport at 4:43:05
a.m. Tuesday, May 28, and landed at 5:39:41 p.m.
Wednesday—exceeding the record of Martin Jensen
by 1 hour and 23 minutes.

Once again Richfield has played an impressive part in an aerial achievement—just as it did in the flight of the Question Mark army plane, in Captain Wilkins' hop over the North Pole, in numerous record breaking transcontinental flights and endurance records.

Use Richfield in your own car for the same reason it is selected by leading pilots and flyers—power, speed, unfailing dependability. And Richlube pure Pennsylvania Motor Oil—it means longer life to your motor.

And when a City can say—
—“I have Municipal Power and Water Systems, whose combined assets amount to approximately $190,000,000, and whose gross revenues, despite extremely low rates, amount to more than $25,000,000 a year.”

And when a City can say—
—“I have Municipal Power and Water Systems, which are financially able to pay—and do pay—all interest and annual principal charges on general water and power bonds from earnings—and not from taxes.”

And when a City can say—
—“I have a Municipal Power System, which possesses assets of more than $75,000,000. Only $50,500,000 in bonds have been voted for this great utility. Additional assets totaling $24,500,000 have come from surplus earnings that have been reinvested in permanent extensions to the System.”

And when a City can say—

And when a City can say—and does say—
—“I know that the value of every home, the security of every payroll, the prosperity of every business venture within my boundaries depends absolutely upon my people maintaining adequate water and electric power supplies.”

When a city can make these statements—and back them up by official records—it is a good city in which to live, to work and in which to invest your money.

And the ONE CITY in America that can make these statements is
LOS ANGELES

The citizens of Los Angeles are not hoodwinked by false statements of selfish interests who may seek to cripple their great Municipal Power System. The people know that their Municipal Power System is one of this City's greatest assets. They know that this System is efficiently operated. They know that every dollar invested in the extension and improvement of their Municipal Power System will return to them ten-fold in better business conditions and larger payrolls.

As the day of the merger approached it became customary, almost with a social flavor, for heads of departments to call on their colleagues in the other institution and discuss the outlook.

This procedure was simplified by the assurance, stressed in both banks, that no one would have to forfeit his position after the merger.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Tal vez se halle el General Escobar en el Canadá.

VANCOUVER (Colombia Británica) Mayo 30.—En la vivienda más lujosa del Hotel George, rodeado por las flores más caras que se pueden conseguir en esta, vivió aquí por tres días un individuo que se cree sea el general Jesús Gonzalo Escobar, cabecilla fugitivo de la revolución mexicana. Los días en que estuvo alojado en dicho hotel fueron el 15, el 16 y el 17 del corriente.

El 17, abandonó el hotel acompañado de su familia, cuatro personas, y de su secretario, que se supone sea Pedro Alvarez, su ayudante en jefe. Dicese que salieron de casa en automóvil.

En el curso de esta última semana han llegado aquí cuatro melancólicos, y aunque todos ellos negaron haber sido el general Escobar, se rumora insistentemente que son policías secretos que vienen tras del ex-revolucionario.

El misterioso personaje melancólico, se presentó al secretario a reservar las más lujosas habitaciones disponibles en el hotel, y al día siguiente, al registrar el hotel, se encontró la impresión general de poseer un individuo que se cree sea el general Escobar.

Al registrarse en el hotel, no puso señas ninguna del secretario, ni su nombre, ni de su patrón. Como se supo que el individuo que se cree sea el general Escobar, se le dio el nombre de "Señor Y." Y "Señor Y." puso el dependiente frente a sus nombres.

Los Melancólicos Agasalarán a San.

CIUDAD DE MEXICO, Mayo 30.—Dicen mensajes especiales de Veracruz a El Universal, que el comité de la agrupación "No Se Toque a Veracruz" que allá radica, ha anunciado tener a punto un plan de agasalar a Veracruz para principios de junio. Se está preparando una recepción en honor suyo.

Recalca del Rey Jorge.

LONDRES, Mayo 30.—Hoy se obtuvieron noticias de Windsor, en las que se dice que el rey Jorge, quien, según se supo ayer, se halla de nuevo en el estado de San Majestad, se dio, además, que no se consideraba necesario dar, antes del mediodía de mañana, más noticias sobre la indisposición del rey.

Ha sido doble la triste impresión que ha causado la recaída del rey. Primero, por lo inesperado de la noticia, ya que la mayoría de sus súbditos lo creía en franca convalecencia; y segundo, por la gravedad de la dolencia del rey, pues se trata de una enfermedad que, si no puede dar repentinamente un golpe mortal.

Crece el Peligro de la Inundación en Tejas.

DALLAS (Tejas), Mayo 30.—Hoy se están dejando sentir con gran fuerza sobre las regiones del suroeste de Tejas las crecidas que llevan tres días de tener inundadas muchas regiones del sur, el norte y el oeste del Estado, que ha cobrado ya siete vidas, causado daños en las mieses por valor de varios millones de dólares, paralizado el tráfico en las carreteras, y entorpecido los servicios telegráficos y ferroviarios.

Varias poblaciones cercanas a Beaumont se hayan rodeadas de agua procedente de las crecidas de numerosas corrientes salidas de madre por los aguaceros sin precedente que han caído sobre sus cuencas superiores. Beaumont no tiene comunicación carretera sino por el este. Cleveland se halla en situación análoga; las carreteras que salen de ese lugar están en muchos puntos bajo las pías de agua.

En Houston parece haber mejorado algo la situación, por más que siguen cayendo aguaceros intermitentes.

NOTAS LOCALES

Rabino que Apoya los Bonos para la Carcel.

"La cárcel de la ciudad es una amenaza de todos los momentos a la vida humana", ha dicho ayer el rabino Edgar F. Magnin, del Templo Bnai B'rith, al recomendar el voto el 4 de Junio en favor de la emisión de bonos para construir aquí una nueva cárcel.

"Me estremecí sólo de pensar en los resultados de un terrible incendio en la cárcel, y en el dolor que sería para Los Angeles la pérdida considerada de vidas que ello acarrearía. Dárganos ante el mundo una prueba de criminal negligencia", agregó el sacerdote.

"Sin el apoyo y cooperación de los ciudadanos para suministrar facilidades adecuadas al departamento de policía, es absurdo esperar que ese departamento pueda hacer nada."

"Nunca encarecería demasiado a todos nuestros conciudadanos que ayan a las urnas, penetrados de sus deberes cívicos, y voten acorramente en la cuestión de los bonos para la cárcel de ciudad, que yo defiendo con todo calor."

Habrá Otra Fierza de Entrada a México Corra de la de Tijuana.

Pronto se remediará la congestión del tránsito por los caminos que llevan a Tijuana (Baja California), según informó ayer el señor Layng, ayudante del abogado federal, a las autoridades del condado de San Diego y a la "Border Securities Company".

Dice que el gobierno ha aprobado la apertura de una nueva puerta internacional, que estará situada a 1500 pies al oeste del actual pasadizo habilitado en Tijuana.

A gente nunca había visto un barco como éste, y parecía absurdo creer que pudiera una embarcación navegar por medio del vapor (People had never seen any such boat as this. It seemed foolish to believe that a boat could be pushed along by steam).

Bloodstains on the walls and floor of a vacant house in the Edendale district may be the means of identifying the crime scene in the Los Angeles River torso murder mystery case. The house was located by Deputy Sheriff Allen Gray and Comptroller of Capt. Bright's homicide squad yesterday in their check-up of the story told by Dr. Frank P. Westlake, who is held on a suspicion of murder charge in connection with the case.

Besides the bloodstains the deputies found a kid glove which contained stains of human blood. The glove was partially identified as one which had belonged to Mrs. Laura E. Sutton, who has been named as the victim of the "perfect crime."

A glove similar to the one found yesterday was among the effects of Mrs. Sutton which had been stored in the home of Dr. Westlake at 1410 W. West Ninth street. The exact location of the house in which the bloodstains were found was withheld by the deputies.

The house had been rented during the last week in March by a man who answers to the description of Dr. Westlake, and a woman who resembled the description of Mrs. Sutton. Two months' rent was paid by the man, according to the owner, whose name the sheriff's office does not want to disclose.

ADMITTED SWEETHEART
Dr. Westlake, who admitted he had been a sweetheart of Mrs. Sutton, was taken into custody when it was found that he had appropriated several lots, two Liberty bonds, and a bank account of $750 which had belonged to Mrs. Sutton. He recorded the deeds after Mrs. Sutton disappeared.

He had been a friend of the Sutton family for six years and was a rival of Eugene Sutton, husband of the missing woman and also of Ben King, a taxicab chauffeur, for her affections, officers state. After Mrs. Sutton had obtained a divorce, Dr. Westlake became "manager" of her affairs and took charge of her property deeds and bank accounts.

BANK BOOKS HIDDEN
When he sought to conceal his connections with the missing woman after the sheriff's office had identified her as the victim of the torso murder, Capt. Bright centered his suspicions on him. Dr. Westlake was detected in the act of hiding bank books of Mrs. Sutton by Deputy Allen Gray and Comptroller.

The case has occupied the entire time of a squad from the homicide

LATIN QUOTED IN DIVORCE ACTION

Wife Remains in Canada So Judge Grants Husband Here Decree

"De gustibus," sighed Superior Judge Sproul gaily, as he entered a divorce for Frank Grestes, against Mildred Grestes, "non disputandum est."

"That's so, judge," replied Mark Cohen, the plaintiff's attorney, "but who would have thought it?"

It didn't appear as though Mrs. Grestes' tastes could be accounted for. She preferred, her husband said, to live in Vancouver, B. C., when her husband wanted her to move to Los Angeles. And under the law of California if a woman won't live where her husband wants her to, she is a deserter.

department since the armless, legless and headless body was found in the river at Compton on April 4 last. The head was found six weeks after the torso was discovered. Through the teeth identity was established as Mrs. Sutton, who had lived at 2012 West Thirtieth street.

LOCATION RAFFLES

The most baffling phase of the case is the location of the murder. In the effects of Mrs. Sutton the deputies found a list of eight houses which had been listed as for rent. Dr. Westlake admitted that he and Mrs. Sutton had gone "house hunting" several days before her disappearance. Most of the vacant houses had been listed in the Echo Park and Edendale districts.

The deputies began a search of every house which had been vacant at the time Mrs. Sutton disappeared. They were working on the theory that she had been lured to a vacant house and killed.

DOCTOR TALKS FREELY

Had the rent been paid it would have enabled the murderer to have dismembered the body and carried it to the river, where the parts could have been buried in the sands. A minute search of the home of evidence that a crime had been committed there.

In the meantime, Dr. Westlake, who is 37 years of age and asserts he is a former army surgeon, is in jail. He talks freely of his relationship with Mrs. Sutton, but steadfastly asserts that he does not believe she is dead.

These Modern Seniors Have Frank Minds

BELL, May 30.—The eighty-five graduates of Bell High School have decided that listening to a commencement address is more or less tiresome, especially when these addresses are from thirty to forty-five minutes, so when the question was put to them whether they desired a visiting speaker, they answered in the negative.

Instead, it has been decided that they will choose from six to eight members of the class to prepare and deliver five-minute addresses on commencement night, June 27, as they declare these will be more interesting.

Arrangements have been made with the Huntington Park Union High School trustees to use the auditorium in that school for the program.

NEW POWER UNIT IN USE

Hydroelectric Addition Gives Edison Company Increase of 40,000 Horsepower

Bringing to a successful conclusion the final major development of the present series of the Big Creek-San Joaquin River hydroelectric construction project, the Southern California Edison Company yesterday placed in operation a 40,000-horsepower generating unit in power plant No. 8 at the junction of Big Creek and the San Joaquin River. The company's generating system in the high Sierras crossed the 500,000-horsepower capacity mark as the new unit went into service.

The new unit, according to George C. Ward, executive vice-president of the Edison company, has increased to 1,112,760 horsepower the company's total system installed capacity.

While the completion of the latest installation on the hydroelectric system marks the consummation of the company's eighteen-year program of development in the high Sierras, provision has been made for the expansion of this system almost as a matter of routine should additional hydroelectric plants become necessary in this area.

In the balanced operation of its steam and hydroelectric plants the Southern California Edison Company is aiding the efforts of the national and State governments to conserve the water resources and to curb the waste of natural gas in the production of oil in the fields of Southern and Central California. Mr. Ward pointed out.

Vast quantities of water are made available for domestic use and irrigation through the Edison company's system of using the rainfall and melting snows of three watersheds of the high Sierras to generate electricity in its plants of the Big Creek-San Joaquin River area. The lakes built by the company store the winter supply of water, which during the summer is released in regulated

WOMAN'S SHOT MAY BE FATAL

Condition of Wounded Man Considered Critical

Accused Assailant Sent to Psychopathic Ward

Hallucination Blamed for Act by Husband

Shot in the abdomen, Herman Pfirman, a meat-market proprietor of 5723 South Broadway, yesterday was hovering between life and death at St. Vincent's Hospital, while Mrs. Mary Dallas of 314 West Fifty-seventh street, accused of shooting him Wednesday night, was being committed to the psychopathic ward of General Hospital.

Before the woman was transferred from Georgia street Receiving Hospital her husband, Fred Dallas, told Detective Lieutenant Stillwell she had suffered hallucinations for years.

According to Dallas's story to the police, he had spent all his money in trying to have his wife cured while they were living in the East. Doctors had advised him to take Mrs. Dallas to California in an effort to improve her condition. Recently, he said, she complained that she was under the hypnotic influence of a man whose name he named.

The husband discounted her even knowing this man, who writes syndicated articles appearing in newspapers. Dallas said he believed his wife read the name and then associated it with her hallucination that she paid him $50 for a hypnotic treatment.

Dallas admitted to Lieut. Stillwell that the revolver used by his wife is his, adding that he had kept it unloaded and hidden. He said that his wife would search it out, load it and sleep with it under her pillow, although he begged her not to touch it. On Wednesday evening she went to buy meat at Pfirman's market. Pfirman was washing his shoe window when he was shot in the abdomen. Witnesses claimed Mrs. Dallas and turned her over to the police. Detective Lieutenants Howard and Speck were assigned to this case.

Pair at Beach Hurt in Firing of Signal Bomb

From a "Times" Staff Representative

HERMOSA BEACH, May 30. (Exclusive)—An aerial bomb today seriously injured one man and burned another while they were trying to signal for help for a swimmer in difficulty at the beach. Walter Arnold, 31 years of age of 129 Fifth street, Manhattan Beach, received a fractured skull and his face was lacerated, while Howard Kaufman of 343 North Citrus street, Los Angeles, was burned about the head and face.

Life Guard Ed Steve had asked the two young men to light the signal aerial bomb while he plunged into the surf to aid a swimmer in distress. Arnold and Kaufman touched matches to the bomb's fuse, but did not realize that they had lighted it. The bomb erupted from its projecting tube, striking Arnold in the face as he leaned over it, while the flame scorched Kaufman. Both were taken to the Redondo Hospital.

brate Memorial Day, which is pre eminently a patriotic day, and on the same day, which happens to fall on the day of St. Patrick, the day of the patron saint of patriotism," said Reverend Father William Stewart, pastor of St. Mark's Church, Venice, who preached the sermon of the occasion. "The Maid of France is the very embodiment of patriotism."

PATRIOTISM DEFENDED
Asserting for Catholics a true patriotism, the preacher said that "critics who speak of the Catholic Church as an institution unpatriotic forget the fact that the very tenets of the church are laid on the ground of love for God and one's country."

Father Stewart specially stressed in his talk the permanence of the great mausoleum, the only Catholic mausoleum in the diocese, and said that it will be so built that 2000 years hence it will still stand a monument to these builders and a memorial to the departed dead. The building is to be of solid concrete, with special finishings in Colorado marble and imported Belgian and Tennessee marble.

Work on the first unit, now three-fourths done, will be rushed to completion, the next unit to take in the chapel, which will be in keeping with the remainder of the structure, in early Christian architecture.

Nearly one year's study of Southern Pacific's signal system, the last two months of which have been spent in Southern California, has convinced Keith McGregor, young Australian railway executive, the system is of the highest type. Besides acknowledging the signal methods employed by Southern Pacific as being of the highest type, McGregor has been won to the beauties of Southern California which he says is so much like his native country of Australia. On July 13, he will have one year's service with Southern Pacific, and he expects to have orders to transfer to another road to continue his first-hand study. He will be in America studying signal systems two years longer.

THE SIMPLE LIFE

A young and most distinguished singer is pining for the rustic life; she fain would fly a broom and wringer, and be some stalwart farmer's life.

She plans to dump her well-worn laurels, to put down saucer-knives in a keg, and drive a team of swag-bagged sorrels to town to sell five dozen eggs. Upon the stage she had her nuttier, and she is weary of her fame; she longs to peddle rolls of butter, and labor at a quilting frame.

And labor at a quilting frame, and sympathize with one who wearies of wild applause, and trail thunders on, who hods the trail of glory dreary when once the novelty is gone. It seems to me I understand her, and how she might herd the goose and gamster, do churning with her strong arm. It is a sane and right arm. It is a sane and right arm. It is a sane and right arm.

of people always thronging to ask her for her autograph, and grow tired of every postcard picture from the time. Grown on snapping all the time. Grown tired of all the her possessors, which once for her possessors, which once for her possessors, which once for her possessors.

such a critter would now infer a quiet farm. But who'll believe she really means it? Would she the girl abandon fame, desert the stage where now she queues to play the granger's farm of game? "It's some new sort of game," observe the step-advertising, "it's rather outre and surprising—we doubt if it's been worked before. When we behold a living woman when we quit the stage to shovel hay, we will admit she's more than half man—or, least, whichever you may say."

PRACTICAL RECIPES

Requests for recipes and information pertaining to the proper preparation and serving of food will be answered in this column every Friday. Address all requests to A. L. Wynne, editorial kitchen, 434 Arden ave., Glendale 4.

CHEF WYMAN'S ANSWERS SOUTHERN DRIED BEEF

C. E. N., Los Angeles, Calif.
One cupful of chopped dried beef, one green pepper, two tablespoonfuls of chopped onion, one can of corn, two tablespoonfuls of butter, a seasoning of salt and paprika; place the butter in a saute pan, add the chopped pepper, onion and corn and allow to cook until the onion is tender; add the dried beef and allow to become crisp; add the corn and simmer slowly for fifteen minutes.

BRAISED LETTUCE

O. E. B., Beverly Hills, Calif.
Think you have reference to the old recipe for wilted lettuce. Clean a good-sized head of lettuce, wash and break it into shreds, dry well and place in a bowl, place in a small saute pan one-quarter of a pound of finely chopped bacon, and one small finely chopped onion; butter may be used in place of the bacon; simmer slowly until the onion is tender but not brown; add half a teaspoonful of pepper and four tablespoonfuls of lemon juice or vinegar; allow to heat thoroughly, pour over the lettuce, mix well; place the lettuce in a pan, cover tightly and allow to steam for two or three minutes. The spinach is cooked first, then placed in a saute pan and the same method is employed, although sometimes a clove of garlic is added and oil is used in place of the butter or bacon.

UNBAKED FRUIT CAKE

F. G. H., Elmhurst, Calif.
Chop fine two pounds each of seeded raisins, seedless raisins, dates, and walnuts; chop fine and add one-fourth of a pound of candied lemon peel, the same amount of candied orange peel, one-third of a pound of citron, one-quarter of a pound of candied cherries, one cupful of strained honey, six tablespoonfuls of pure olive oil, two cupfuls of rolled oats, two cupfuls of cracked wheat, one teaspoonful each of cinnamon, cloves, allspice, and nutmeg; two cupfuls of unfermented fruit juice, (grape juice preferred), pour the juice over the rolled oats and cracked wheat and allow to stand overnight. Next morning mix all the ingredients thoroughly together, place in pans that have been lined with paper, cover with paper, place a heavy weight on top and let stand for twenty-four hours. To keep, store in a tight tin box that has been lined with waxed paper.

POPPY SEED PIE

M. R., Los Angeles, Calif.
One cupful of poppy seeds, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-half cupful of chopped almonds, one-half a teaspoonful of grated lemon rind, two tablespoonfuls of "chopped" citron, one-fourth of a cupful of seedless raisins, one cupful and a half of milk; grind the poppy seeds fine, place the milk in a double boiler, add the other ingredients and more sugar if liked; cook and add the grated lemon rind, pour into a baked pie shell, cover with a meringue and brown in the oven.

TUTTI FRUTTI ICING

Mrs. A. I., Los Angeles, Calif.
Place in a sauce pan three cupfuls of sugar and one cupful of water; mix well, bring to a boil and boil until a little dropper from the tip of a spoon will spin a fine thread; beat the boiling syrup slowly into the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs and beat until thick enough to spread; beat in half a cupful of chopped, candied cherries, a half a cupful of chopped seeded raisins, a half a cupful of chopped walnuts, a half a cupful of chopped candied pineapple, spread between the layers of the cake.

SUN-COOKED STRAWBERRIES

M. K., Santa Monica, Calif.
For five pounds of strawberries that have been cleaned and washed, allow five pounds of sugar, place in alternate layers in a preserving kettle, bring slowly to a boil and simmer for five minutes; skim frequently, pour onto clean platters or shallow dishes, cover with a piece of clear white glass and set in the sun for three days. When the syrup is thick and the fruit is plump, pack the berries in sterilized jars, cover with a syrup, seal tight and store.

ORANGE ROLLS

E. M. M., Pasadena, Calif.
Scald two cupfuls of milk, add to it three tablespoonfuls of butter, two teaspoonfuls of sugar and one teaspoonful of salt; stir until lukewarm, add one cake of yeast, dissolved in one-quarter of a cupful of lukewarm water, add three cupfuls of sifted flour, beat for five minutes and set in a warm place to rise until light. Cut down and work in two and one-half cupfuls of flour, knead well, and let rise again; place on a floured board, roll out to one-third of an inch in thickness, cut with a biscuit cutter, lay a section of orange in the center, fold over and press the edges together, place on a buttered baking pan and bake until half done, not brown. Remove from the oven, open each roll, and insert a teaspoonful of cream, made by beating to a cream, three tablespoonfuls of butter, six tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, three tablespoonfuls of orange juice and the grated rind of one orange; place the rolls in the oven again, spread over the top some of the sauce and finish baking, being careful not to burn the sauce.

STRAWBERRY COCKTAIL

J. F., Los Angeles, Calif.
Cut into dice four peaches and one orange, add to them the strained juice of one orange, and twenty-four strawberries cut in slices, season to taste with powdered sugar and set in the ice box until thoroughly chilled; serve in glasses, garnish the top of each glass with a strawberry that has been dipped in powdered sugar. Pineapple can be used in place of the peaches and the pineapple syrup used in place of the orange juice.

STRAWBERRY SHERBET

One cup of sugar, one quart of strawberries, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, the white of one egg; add the sugar to the strawberries and allow to stand in a cold place for two hours; add more sugar if necessary; add the lemon juice, stiffly beaten white of the egg; pour into a freezer and freeze. Serve in glasses, garnished with whipped cream.

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

SHOWING HIM HOW

By Mrs. Agnes Lyns

Kenneth, aged 3, sat scribbling with his crayons on large sheets of paper given him for the purpose. His father watched for some moments. "What are you making, Kenneth?" "Oh, just something!" answered Kenneth indignantly, and went on with his aimless scribbling.

Finally his father could endure the sight no longer. "Here, I'll show you how—I'll make a picture for you," And he did. He made a series of fine houses, dogs, men, boats and what not. Kenneth was charmed. He handed over all his crayons to his father and sat by, eager for new wonders to develop.

They spent a friendly half-hour together. Perhaps the fun they had almost offset the harm done by substituting adult ideas and standards for those which were natural to a 3-year-old.

Kenneth, absorbed in his scribble

and quite happy in the results he achieved, was learning in the best way that children can learn. When, instead, he sat by and watched his father, he was playing an entirely passive part, from which the best Some children are strong enough to persist in their own way even after an adult has made it clear that their efforts are lamentably inadequate. But most children succumb to suggestion and try to ape the adult pattern. These have little worth to them in terms of real growth.

Being eager for "results," we find it difficult to refrain from interfering. It will be easier to keep our hands off if we bear in mind that when we correct a small child's work and force a response which seems to us to represent a higher level of attainment we are, in fact, placing obstacles in the path of his real development.

Detective Goes North Without Taking Graves

Pending disposition of a writ of habeas corpus filed by Dr. Armand Karl Graves, promoter of a buried treasure expedition, who is now in the City Jail on a charge of grand theft, Detective Prohl of the San Francisco police department yesterday returned to the Bay City. Before leaving, he stated he is prepared to return here in time to escort Graves back with him, in event the writ is not granted. "Leaving on the writ comes up before Superior Judge Shaw, June 3.

Graves, who is said to have operated as an international spy, was arrested several days ago as the result of charges sworn to by Henry Kirchmann, Jr., of San Francisco. According to the police, Kirchmann complained he had contributed to Graves $3500 to finance a trip to islands in the Caribbean Sea in search of gold and gems buried there.

WIDOW WILLARD OF AIR CRASH

The will of a wealthy estate manager, Mrs. Willard, was admitted to probate yesterday by Superior Judge Shaw. The will, which was valued at $100,000, was made when the widow was 75 years of age. It was found that she had been married to a man who was killed in an air crash. The will was found to be valid and the estate was distributed to her children.

ACTOR OF MANY LOVES IS VICTIM

"Studio Murder Mystery"
Has Film and Background;
Heads Paramount Bill

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Who killed the handsome matinee idol?

This is the question propounded in "The Studio Murder Mystery," and suspicion for the guilt is cast upon various people in the plot, but never so deeply and convincingly in any innocent instance that you can't guess the real culprit if you are a good guesser.

"The Studio Murder Mystery" is far from being a 100 per cent bit of detective fiction. But it has a few humorous moments, and a snappy fight between Neil Hamilton and Warner Oland that give it passable interest. It is showing at the Paramount Theater.

The setting, of course, is novel. The Paramount studio has been used as a background, with the story over the entranceway changed to Eminent Pictures. There are some atmospheric glimpses of films in production, and the victim of the murder is discovered on one of the studio stages.

The matinee idol is Richard Har- dell, a man of many love affairs, and his attentions to the little daughter of the studio watchman are the apparent cause for his meeting a violent death. There is nothing particularly ingenious about this premise, and that, as much as anything else, causes the picture to be rather conventional.

Neil Hamilton gives the cleverest performance as the scenario writer who turns amateur detective. Some of the hiding, in, especially with the real detectives is as far-fetched as can be, but it is the source of laughs anyway. There is also an amusing sequence where he attempts to cheer up Doris Hill after she has been convicted of the crime on circumstantial evidence.

Warner Oland appears as a foreign director, and gives a competent interpretation. Frederick March as the actor and his wife, Doris Hill as the watchman's daughter, Gardner James, Chester Conklin, Eugene Pallette and Lane Chandler, among others, appear in the plot. The production was directed by Frank Tuttle, and is adapted from a story that ran in Photoplay Magazine.

"The Framing of Arvid Gullstrom," a uniquely misanthropic affair—one of the best in this series of Roy Cohen stories brought to the screen.

Milton Charles's organ numbers, "Pagan Love Song" and "Hula Lou" and Smith and Cole's "Night in Venice" please the audience.

Warner Ready for Late Show

In order that the many who have been trying to get into Warner Brothers Theater to see "On With the Show," the first all-natural color screen musical comedy, may be accommodated, a midnight performance is announced for tomorrow. In addition to the showing of the picture, stars of both stage and screen will appear in person, with Frank Fay as master of ceremonies.

Ted Lewis, the tragedian of song, and his band, Ann Pennington, Joe E. Brown, Sam Hardy, Harry O'Connell, Henry Fink and others will offer specialty acts. The composers of the musical numbers of "On With the Show," Grant Clarke and Harry Akst, will sing some of their latest songs, and Betty Compson, Louise Fazenda and Lee Moran will be on the stage.

As a distinct novelty, Sally O'Neil, William Bakewell and Arthur Lake, who are also in the picture, will act as ushers and show the patrons to their seats.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB
WILL OFFER COMEDY

Shakespeare Study Club, under auspices of the Franklin High School, will offer "Midsummer Night's Dream" in the Greek Theater, Occidental College, tonight. The play is directed by Elizabeth Cloud Miller. The cast is made up of 125 young people and includes Dorothy Bell as Puck, John Crisman as Theseus, and Sidney Levine.

Rings of the piece are under the direction of Madge Philbrook, and the dances of the production are supervised by Emily Phipps. The theater, located at the foot of the hills, compares favorably, it is said, with those of old Athens.

RICHARD DIX TAKES MILLIONAIRE ROLE

"Nothing But the Truth," Richard Dix's first all-talkie comedy, begins its week's showing on Laramie's Million Dollar Theater screen today.

Besides showing that Dix has a pleasant screen voice, the film is an amusing screen play built upon several comedy situations.

A watch by Dix, who takes the part of a wealthy young broker, that he can tell the truth for a period of twenty-four hours starts the action, and results in a seemingly endless series of complications.

Appearing with Dix are John Bartley, Ned Sparks, Bertie Churchill, Helen Kane and others.

Also on the program are "Old Black Joe," a one-reel song feature; "Now and Then," a short tale; "Curiosity," and "Curiosities of the World We Live In."

DANCERS WITH "CROWS"
Albertine Russell, internationally known director of dance numbers, has been signed by Paramount to stage a ballet with thirty of her pupils in "Why Bring That Up?" Moran and Mack's first starring motion picture, now being made in all-dialogue form. The specially-connected ballet will introduce a newly written ballet which will be sung by a male quartet during the dance. Costumes for the thirty dancers who appear have been brought to Hollywood from New York and are now being fitted.

KEATON SILENT AND FUNNY

One of those rarities of the present day in films is on view at the Boulevard this week.

It is none other than a silent picture. Buster Keaton, whose ice-bound visage expresses many and variously pleasant shades of humor as he experiences the vicissitudes which befall a young man in love, takes a bow in "The Spite Marriage."

Now the advocates of the talkies—and they are growing in numbers by leaps and bounds—can have their all-dialogue features and their sound drama. They can praise these talking to the skies and enjoy them, but just for a glimpse of the delights of days gone by, it would be well if they went to see Buster Keaton in good old-fashioned pantomime comedy.

"The Spite Marriage," the theater, the Boulevard.

The story of the film is a very simple one. It is a sad-eyed young entrepreneur of the trotting board who languishes for love of a pretty young actress. He dresses up in a variety of costumes, and in the field of comedy that Buster has achieved.

The first scene, where, in most important fashion, he goes on stage in the role of an army corporal in a southern play of "East Lynne" species. It gains its humor largely from the situation into which Buster is thrust, and is an extremely well motivated piece of work.

The second notable sequence, and perhaps the brightest and shiniest moment of the entire comedy, is a "drunk" episode. Dorothy Sebastian as the actress laments too freely of champagne at the sight of her leading man and ex-lover in the arms of a rival. Buster, desperate in love and reverently attentive, is faced with the problem of getting her out of the cafe and home. Finally, he does. This has been all very funny, but the ending comes, and the audience almost rolls on the floor in shouts of laughter. Considerable credit must be given Miss Sebastian for the finesse and commendable poise which characterizes her work throughout, particularly so at this juncture.

Keaton is thoroughly excellent in the role which he has chosen and exemplifies to a high degree his mastery of the art of pantomime, as well as slapstick comedy. His choices of story is good, although the last half of the tale rolls along much more smoothly and less unbelieveably melodramatic than the last.

Edward Earle and Lella Hyams are two other members of the cast. The film is an Edward Sedgwick production released by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Accompanying the feature film is a Hal Roach comedy. While the stage show is called "The Omnivorous Revue," with Boulevard Girls and band.

"GREEN HAT" STAR SIGNS FOR DRAMA

Ruth Chatterton Will Fill Leading Role in New Mayan Production

Felix Young last night revealed the signing of Ruth Chatterton, talented stage and screen actress, to star in his forthcoming production, "Top of the Hill," which starts at the Mayan Theater, June 27.

The announcement comes as a distinct surprise, inasmuch as Miss Chatterton, since abandoning the stage for talking films, has achieved triumphs in her first three speaking pictures. However, yesterday, after a conference on the play Famous-Players-Lasky officials voted a leave of absence to their contract star.

As one of the most gifted stage actresses, Miss Chatterton has been a high rank in the theater during her long and active career. Her last local appearance in "The Devil's Plum Tree" had a long engagement at the Belasco Theater. Previous to that she appeared here in "The Green Hat," as well as in many eastern cities.

Young has plans to make his second legitimate production here a memorable one. He proposes to surround Miss Chatterton with a group of players of established reputations, and will import a New York director to stage the piece. Rehearsals are slated to commence early next week.

SATIRE WILL BE STAGED BY HORTON

"Serena Blandish," Comedy of Manners, to Follow the Current Melodrama

Edward Everett Horton announces that the next attraction at the Majestic Theater, following his current revival of the ancient melodrama "The Streets of New York," will be the successful New York comedy of manners "Serena Blandish," which will start June 9.

This sophisticated satire, which is from the pen of M. M. Behrman, was presented at the Morocco Theater in New York. It was produced by Jed Harris, producer of "Broadway," "Coco," "The Front Page" and other successes, and is said to rank equally with these offerings in popular appeal.

As is his custom, Edward Everett Horton will mount the production with lavish sets and scenery, and it is said that his cast will include several names known throughout the world of drama lovers. His own particular role is likely suited to his inimitable style of comedy that has won him a large following on both stage and screen. According to those who have witnessed rehearsals, the production will top anything Horton has offered local playgoers to date.

"The Streets of New York" will continue to make audiences laugh at what our grandparent took quite seriously, until its closing performance June 8.

Broadway Loses Pair to Screen

Arvid E. Gullstrom, who directed James and Lucille Webster Gleason in the talking comedy, "Meet the Missus," now at the United Artists Theater, believes the Gleasons are due to become the most popular team in pictures.

"Not since the pioneer days of the late Sidney Drews have we had such a highly capable team of players," says Gullstrom. "The Gleasons have re-established the popularity of domestic comedies. Their long stage experience insures their success in talking plays. Besides, Jimmy Gleason is one of the masters of dialogue. I hope they are lost to the Broadway stage for some time to come because we need them here."

"Meet the Missus," which is a Christie talking play, made something of a record in New York City by running several weeks in two Broadway theaters simultaneously.

LIBRETTIST SIGNED

Hollywood has taken another master of musical comedy from Broadway. William Cary Duncan, famous librettist and lyricist, has arrived from New York and is under contract to Paramount Famous-Lasky. In the past quarter of a century Duncan has written a book and songs for twenty-six musical comedies, twenty-two of which were produced on Broadway.

MACKAILL PORTRAYAL EFFECTIVE

Actress' Jazz Baby in "His Captive Woman" Real Attraction at Loew's

BY PHILIP K. SCHUEBE

Justice, the busy little blindfolded woman, is left holding the scales once again at Loew's State Theater, where "His Captive Woman" yesterday came before the bar. A lenient judge finally handed down a decision which sent away those who had heard it quite pleased with themselves and also, it is likely, a good bit puzzled. The penalty for Dorothy Mackaill, a young lady who had been found guilty of murder, was a commitment to a South Sea island for the term of her natural life—with Milton Sills for company.

First National Vitaphone tells the story. This new production, partly audible and partly not, boasts as many virtues as vices. In a sense, its vices are its virtues; Miss Mackaill's jazz baby is the most electrifying thing about it, and this despite the fact that she fails to be consistent at what is the turning point of the narrative.

The film opens at one of those travesties of justice which currently infest the talking screen; one of those courtroom affairs which, before they are finished, become more a trial of an audience's credulity than of a mere defendant. When Miss White, a colored witness, is allowed to mumble (in reference to this same defendant) "she ain't prejudiced, but I sure would like to see her get electrocuted," and her comment is greeted with shouts of laughter from the onlookers, one can only conclude that this is in reality no drama at all, but an opera bouffe of the sort which Clark and McCullough recently did in such success.

Those scenes which take place in the tropics, where Officer Sills goes in quest of Miss Mackaill, are excellently done. Thanks to some magnificent photography and the sincerity of the two principals, the picture emerges with a much higher average than it would have if the New York episodes had constituted its total appeal. Director George Fitzmaurice, always with a weather eye for the beautiful, has seen to it that his compositions are rich in visual charm. And still, one way or another, he has failed to suggest, as I indicated before, just how the broad, immature, and naive, the awe-inspiring altitude of life on a tiny speck of land with a single companion—and a tedious, more companion at that—can bring about a readjustment of spiritual values in Miss Mackaill. With all the opportunity in the world to knock her better self, Mr. Fitzmaurice chose instead the spoken word and the written to get over his big point. This jazz baby's "conversion" is so sudden.

Mr. Sills does good work as the persistent cop, especially in his silent sequences. Frank Reicher, George Fawcett, Gladys Joyce, Miriam Byron and August Toulait support the two leads.

The script, said to have been based on a short story by Dean Byrnes and Charles Wilson. The dialogue and titles are credited to Paul Perez.

All kinds of rhythms are brought for want in the new Pantheon and Marco stage act: the futuristic, barbaric, march, etc. Rube Wolf plays "Old Black Joe" with variations, and three negro dancers abruptly steal the honors from Gormley and Sully, headlining. The Georgia Lane dancers introduce at least one ensemble effect which is unique and arresting, and Miss Joyella, a muscular miss, shakes in approved hula fashion. Two numbers from the Fox Movietone Follies enliven the program.

The midnight frolic at Grauman's Chinese Theater Saturday night promises to be as auspicious as any that Ed Grauman has staged in connection with "Broadway Melody."

Seventh-hour information from Grauman divulges the new cast arrangements have been made to bring the entire cast of "Alibi," the Roland West musical melodrama now running at the United Artists Theater to the Chinese for the occasion.

Chester Morris, Pat O'Malley, Regis Toomey, Mae Busch, Funnell B. Pratt, Harry Stubbs, Mona Bender and others will be there to take part in the program. Oliver Wallace, organist at the United Artists Theater console, will be with them.

This marks the first time since the completion of "Alibi" that the cast has been together.

The midnight frolic immediately follows the showing of "Broadway Melody" and is incorporated with Ed Grauman's prologue staged in connection with the picture.

HIGH LIGHTS IN HISTORY 1355

The Story of the World War
125—The Russian Masses Demand Peace

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

IN THE SPRING OF 1917 THE RUSSIAN MASSES WERE HEARTILY OPPOSED TO CONTINUING THE WAR. THEY WANTED PEACE SO THAT THEY MIGHT ENJOY THE NEW FREEDOM WON BY THE RECENT REVOLUTION. THE SOVIET PROPOSED AN IMMEDIATE PEACE ON THE BASIS OF NO ANNEXATIONS, NO INDEMNITIES AND SELF-DETERMINATION FOR ALL PEOPLES.

THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT UNDER PRESSURE OF THE SOVIET WAS FORCED TO PUBLICLY DECLARE ITSELF IN FAVOR OF THIS PROPOSAL. BUT WHEN MILUKOFF, MINISTER FOR FOREIGN AFFAIRS, SENT COPIES OF THIS DECLARATION TO RUSSIAN MINISTERS ABROAD HE ATTACHED A NOTE TO THE ALLIES ASSURING THEM THAT RUSSIA'S POSITION RELATIVE TO THE WAR REMAINED UNCHANGED.

MAY 3, 1917. THIS NOTE WAS PUBLISHED. THE SOVIET WAS ENRAGED, AND ANGRY DEMONSTRATIONS AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT FOLLOWED. MILUKOFF RESIGNED, BUT THE DAMAGE WAS BEYOND REPAIR. THIS INCIDENT FILLED THE RUSSIAN MASSES WITH DISTRUST OF THE PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.

THE BOLSHEVISTS STEADILY GAINED FOLLOWERS FROM THE MORE MODERATE POLITICAL PARTIES. BOLSHEVIST AGITATORS WERE IN THE RANKS OF THE ARMY, AMONG OTHERS. THE GENERAL UNREST, THE HUNGER OF THOSE WHOSE HOPE HAD FADING, THE RUSSIAN MASSES WERE HIGHER EVERY DAY.

PODIATRISTS IN SESSION HERE

and is much the better word. It will require time to complete the change but the word chiropody will eventually die out," Dr. Scherer asserted.

The three-day convention program opened in the Mayfair assembly room at 11 yesterday, with an invocation by Bishop W. Bertrand Stevens. Dr. D. P. Kimball of Los Angeles, president of the State body, presided. General topics for discussion at subsequent sessions were outlined.

The afternoon was given over to recreation and entertainment, with a trip to Mount Lowe as the main feature. A program of events that included a needle-threading contest for men, a nail-driving contest for girls and a bean race for men and women, was participated in by the podiatrists, and a tug of war between delegates from the Southern and delegates to the San Francisco Bay district was the climactic number. The day closed with dinner and dancing last night.

Business sessions at 10 a.m., 12-2 p.m., 1-4 p.m. and 5-8 p.m. will be the features of today's program, with a banquet and dance in Rainbow Isle, the Mayfair's beautiful ballroom, scheduled for the evening.
President Kimball will act as toastmaster at the banquet.

Saturday's sessions will be devoted to clinics and lectures by many of the leading podiatrists of the State, including Drs. A. Gottlieb, R. H. Fyles, R. W. Swift, F. S.
Schuler, Roy Roscamp, J. L. L.
D. Bucher and P. A. Jeeberg.

Foot diseases with names that strike terror to the uninitiated, will be discussed at the convention.
These will include halux valgus, that well-known malady from which the celebrated G. O. Fyle's cross-country runners in the Fyle bun-derby are suffering. For, with all the ills and valgus amputated, this affliction resolves itself into plain bunions.

Epidemiology is another dreadful sounding disease and one which, delegates to the convention declared, affects fully one-third of the people of the United States.
Stripped of its scientific name, the disease is athlete's foot, or athlete's feet. It takes the form of blisters on the sole of the foot and between the toes, which finally become scale-like and cause painful itching. The disease is a first cousin to the ringworm and is becoming more prevalent each year. The parasite is acquired in swimming pools, on the shower bath floor, in the gymnasium locker-room, and other places where people walk barefooted, according to Dr. Scherer.

Bromodrosis is also a foot ailment that affects a large number of Americans, but those who suffer from it would not recognize it by that name. "What is the common term for bromodrosis?" a reporter asked Dr. Scherer.

"Well, you wouldn't print it if I told you," he answered. "But remember, you can put it this way:
Bromodrosis is halitosis of the feet."

Judge Rejects
Smoking Plea

Things have changed somewhat in the past ten years, Superior Judge Rosenkrans declared, after he heard testimony of Angelo Man-ero, sued by his wife Dolores, for a divorce.

"Ten years ago, it might have been significant of something if a woman smoked," said Judge Rosen-krans. "But they're all doing it now."

The defendant had sought custody of his two children, because he said, his wife smoked two packages of cigarettes a day. Mrs.
Manero was awarded custody of the children and $10 a week alimony for their support.

Prisoners in the City Jail last

YOUTHLAND PAUSES IN TRIBUTE TO HERO DEAD

Memory of Those Who Made Great Sacrifice for Country in Four Wars Cherished

WEST LOS ANGELES, May 30.—Twenty thousand witnessed the impressive Memorial Day services at the Soldiers' Home Cemetery, Sawtelle, today. Three thousand marchers were in the parade, including veterans of this country's wars, patriotic organizations, junior groups and school children. Venice and other surrounding communities united in sending large numbers of visitors, dispensing with local services in behalf of the Sawtelle program, always one of the most impressive in Southern California, because of the presence of so many veterans at the Home.

A. P. Entenza, past commander-in-chief of the United Spanish-American War Veterans, delivered the address of the day. Elias Allen, dramatic soprano, who had volunteered her services to the veterans, sang.

Ten thousand graves of veterans in the Soldiers' Home Cemetery were decorated.

CIVIL WAR VETERANS FEATURED AT GLENDALE

GLENDALE, May 30.—Tribute to the rapidly thinning ranks of the men who fought in the Civil War featured the address of Rev. W. A. Betts, D.D., pastor of the First Methodist Church, at Forest Lawn Memorial Park today. Dr. Betts spoke of the sacrifices that the men of 1861-65 made for the preservation of the Union and urged their descendants to take their example to heart and to maintain the spirit of patriotism that was about them.

The parade that preceded the exercises was led by Col. J. D. Fraser, Chief of Police, with Capt. F. J. Lipstreu as adjutant. Patriotic bodies, civic organizations, veterans of the country's wars and school children were in line of march, and at Forest Lawn the symbolic parade was decorated with flowers after which a firing squad discharged three volleys and a bugle sounded "Taps."

The band of the Elks lodge furnished music for the parade, and the Spanish-American War veterans and the Emerson school drum and bugle corps also were in the line of march. At Forest Lawn a special music program was given featuring a solo by Silas Carter.

SAN DIEGO VETERANS MARCH ON BROADWAY

SAN DIEGO, May 30.—Broadway resounded to martial music and the tread of marching thousands this morning when the detachments of San Diego's military and naval forces, supplemented by veterans of three wars, paraded in honor of the national flag.

Veterans of '98 and '15 marched with springs step, keeping their ranks in order as in those stirring days when they were the khaki-clad ranks of the "Boys of '61" no longer swung up Broadway in marching order. Today a small group of gray-haired veterans rode in automobiles. A storm of handclapping swept the streets and many a spectator's cheek was wet as they passed.

The length of the parade, speeded with hands and bright with proud carried American flags, moved up Broadway between crowded curbs, passed the reviewing stand on the plaza and swung north on Fourth street. At Laurel the marchers turned east, proceeding to the Plaza de Panama. Impressive patriotic services there were held at the ornate pavilion.

Capt. Schuyler O. Kelly was grand marshal of the parade. Many high officers of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps occupied seats in the reviewing stand.

INGLEWOOD PLANTS TREES IN MEMORY

INGLEWOOD, May 30.—Seven fallen heroes of the World War, one of them a heroic young nurse who sacrificed her life in a cantonment hospital where she fell victim to a fatal disease, were remembered by American Legion Post 158, in the planting of trees in their honor in Centinella Park. It was announced by Commander Homer L. Chailaux that wooden crosses, exact replicas of those erected in the American military cemetery in France, were to be planted at the foot of each tree, bearing the name, unit and number of the veteran.

The tree-planting ceremonies were preceded by services and decoration of the veteran plots in Inglewood Park Cemetery, which followed the parade of veteran and other patriotic organizations and their respective auxiliaries, with Capt. Fred E. Laxdal as officer of the day. Exercises at the cemetery were in charge of the United Spanish War Veterans, of which A. G. Sylvester is commander. Rev. William Brunwell of Palms delivered the address.

DRAMATIC SOPRANO SINGS FOR VETERANS

WEST LOS ANGELES, May 30.—Elias Allen, dramatic soprano, who had volunteered her services to the veterans, sang.

Ten thousand graves of veterans in the Soldiers' Home Cemetery were decorated.

The band of the Elks lodge furnished music for the parade, and the Spanish-American War veterans and the Emerson school drum and bugle corps also were in the line of march. At Forest Lawn a special music program was given featuring a solo by Silas Carter.

The length of the parade, speeded with hands and bright with proud carried American flags, moved up Broadway between crowded curbs, passed the reviewing stand on the plaza and swung north on Fourth street. At Laurel the marchers turned east, proceeding to the Plaza de Panama. Impressive patriotic services there were held at the ornate pavilion.

Capt. Schuyler O. Kelly was grand marshal of the parade. Many high officers of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps occupied seats in the reviewing stand.

MUCH ADO ABOUT VERY LITTLE

Twelve Jurors, Three Judges, Two Attorneys and Four Witnesses Required in San Gabriel Court to Try Physician for Cutting Traffic Button

SAN GABRIEL, May 30.—The services of twelve jurors, three judges, two attorneys and four witnesses were pressed into service yesterday to decide the guilt or innocence of Dr. E. D. Farrington of El Monte on a charge of cutting a traffic button and passing another car at an intersection. And a large courtroom audience supplied the background. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

The three judges were Police Judge H. S. Farrell of Alhambra, acting as presiding judge, and Judges J. S. Smith of San Gabriel and J. E. Monte of El Monte, who replaced Judge Smith when the latter was summoned as a witness.

The gathering of judicial and legal talent was the result of the defendant pleading not guilty, contending that he was in a hurry at the time to appear before the county grand jury to answer a summons as a witness.

With a big program in Patriotic Hall in the morning and a big picnic at Municipal Park in the afternoon.

MAYWOOD'S COUNCIL TO FACE RECALL

Petitions Name All Five Members of Board Citing Incompetence

MAYWOOD, May 30.—Seeking to oust the entire City Council, five petitions have been presented to that body are now in the hands of the City Attorney. The petitions cite every member of the board, including Mayor Frank M. Gardner and Councilmen E. G. Horton, Fred H. Brewer, T. P. Driscoll and W. G. Heath.

Each petition charges incompetency and inefficiency, and states that "each has voted to unnecessarily, extravagantly and arbitrarily increase the expense of the city, thereby needlessly, wastefully, unreasonably and unjustly 'cashing' an added financial and oppressive burden on the taxpayers."

According to City Clerk Larkins, the Council has ordered all in debt against the city paid, these debts being for the purchase of the equipment of a fire building and road machinery. After these bills are liquidated, the city will be free from indebtedness, and there will be about $5000 left in the city treasury, he estimates.

The present Council was elected in April, 1938, at the regular city election.

Past Champion Fruit Packers Seen in Action

ANAHEIM, May 30.—While judges in the California Valencia Orange Show packing contest today were examining each individual orange packed in thirty-six boxes, eighteen contestants were anxiously awaiting the outcome.

The contest closed last night, when two former champion packers were seen in action. Mrs. Eleanor Anderson, of the Anderson Packing Company, Lindsay, won last year's championship, packed against Marjorie Dick of the Santa Ana-Tustin Mutual Orange Distributors, who as Marjorie Richardson won the 1937 championship. Mrs. Anderson last night packed two boxes in 9 minutes and 18 seconds. Mrs. Dick required 9 minutes and 22 seconds for the same task. Helen Holmes, Mrs. Dick's team-mate, took 8 minutes 59 seconds for the contest, while Mrs. Moll Soule, packing with Mrs. Anderson, won the heat in 8 minutes 42 seconds.

Today was dedicated to the American Legion, while tonight San Bernardino folk were honored at the carnival tent.

The opening heat of a fancy packing contest was held tonight with the closing contest scheduled for Friday evening. It is believed that the championship awards for the main championship contest will be made tomorrow.

Tomorrow will be Fullerton day, with the evening given over to negro entertainers on a plantation program. The seven-day fête ends Sunday evening.

Supervisors Perfect Body

ANAHEIM, May 30.—Supervisors from eight Southern California counties met here yesterday afternoon and evening and formed the Southern California County Supervisors' Association, a protective group for study of legislative problems affecting the southern portion of the State.

Counties represented by twenty-one persons included Tulare, Kern, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Orange, San Bernardino, Riverside and San Diego. Unrepresented but invited to attend were Los Angeles, Imperial, Inyo, Kings and San Luis Obispo counties. Tom Hurley, chairman of the San Diego county board, presided.

The group will meet semiannually in February and August. Permanent officers are to be elected at the August meeting.

FISHERMEN BEGIN LAST SOUTHERN RUN

SAN DIEGO, May 30.—Bound for the vicinity of Socorro Island, more than a dozen San Diego fishing boats are leaving port or are already under way today on what probably will be the last voyage this season to the far southern fishing grounds.

The tuna season in the southern waters is about at an end. June 15, fishermen say, will find the tuna beginning their run closer home, and the local fleet will shift activity to the vicinity of Tortuga Bay. The run of tuna around Socorro has lasted longer this year than previously, it is said.

SENIORS MAY GET DIPLOMAS

San Bernardino School May Graduate Colton Class

San Bernardino, May 30.—Forty-seven students of Colton High School graduating class, facing the loss of their diplomas through the closing of the school yesterday because of a lack of funds to finance its operation the two final weeks of the year, may be permitted to enroll in the San Bernardino High School and complete their work.

V. M. Pinkley, president of the San Bernardino High School District Board of Education, today conferred with Superintendent of Schools C. R. Holbrook of this city on the question of enrolling the senior students in the local school.

Holbrook said that the parents of scores of Colton High School students had requested that the students be enrolled here to qualify for the diplomas, their reward for four years' school work. Holbrook indicated that he favored the plan but added that there are complications which the Board of Education must handle before an answer can be returned to the parents. Pinkley will confer with the entire board before a decision is reached.

The graduating class is among the 400 students who were forced to leave their classes when the school was closed. The Colton board announced that its funds had been exhausted. The school district defeated overwhelmingly a bond issue to wipe out the deficit of more than $18,000 in the district's treasury.

When it was announced at the school that classes were to be discontinued several students, particularly Miss Ida M. Collins, county superintendent of schools, is attempting to devise a means whereby the Colton school may be kept open and the funds returned from next year's appropriation. Legal issues involved, however, may block her attempt, she admitted.

Plans Made for 1930 Star Camp

OJAI, May 30.—"How can a man in prison stimulate desire for freedom?" This was the counter-questing of Jiddu Krishnamurti when asked how one could stimulate the desire for freedom. He was speaking to 700 Star Camp attendees in the Oak Grove here this morning.

"What a question to ask?" he went on. "Is not the sorrow of another, are not the tears of another sufficient to give you a burning desire to free yourself and them?"

Disclaiming authority, refusing disciples, Krishnamurti urged his hearers to recognize their own ability to find liberation. Some one mentioned "those who do not understand your message." "Why do you make it my message or my teaching?" he asked. "Isn't it what you want? don't you want to be free and happy? This is your message."

More than ten miles of paving projects are proposed in territory served by the company, it is pointed out.

Bond Vote Set in San Gabriel

SAN GABRIEL, May 30.—The San Gabriel County Water District will vote on a proposed bond issue of $60,000 on June 18, the directors of the district have announced. The funds would be used to construct a 1,500,000-gallon reservoir, to drill a well on the Van Nuys property north of here, and to install water mains to connect with the Longden-avenue line.

A recent decision of the City Council ordering all public utilities installed prior to the paving of streets will require a fund for the purpose according to L. W. Kline, water district company manager. More than ten miles of paving projects are proposed in territory served by the company, it is pointed out.

SAN DIEGO LOW FLYER GROUNDED

Commercial Aviator Not Allowed to Hop Over City for Six Months

SAN DIEGO, May 30.—The Board of Air Control announced that W. R. Ballard, commercial flyer, has been "grounded" for six months here for violating the ordinance prohibiting low flying or stunting over the city.

Several witnesses charged that Ballard frequently flew his plane at an altitude of less than 500 feet over the residential district and dove close to children on the ground. Ballard was prohibited from flying over or near this city for six months, also he can not use the air lanes over any part of San Diego county for two months.

Ballard will accept the decision of the board and not take the matter to court, he stated. The air board's membership includes J. Allison Moore, John Van Horn and William Van Dusen.

Sewer System Bonds Approved by Carpinteria

CARPINTERIA, May 30.—Elections here, in a light vote yesterday, approved a $60,000 bond issue for construction of an outfall sewer system. Engineers will begin drawing plans and specifications for the system. Attorney Fred Schauer, who represents the sanitary district, said he anticipated no trouble in securing bonds as there have been many inquiries.

The plans will be submitted to the State Board of Health and to the War Department.

In addition to the outfall line, there will be a main trunk put down through the city and extending to Old Town. The bond issue is to provide money also for the building of pumping and treatment plants.
